ACADEMICS, ORGANIZATIONS

The Question is Authority

For those students who seemingly can never remember who their Student Council representatives are, the Epilogue obligingly publishes their pictures. Operating under a new constitution for the first time, the Council consisted of 16 members and 5 officers. Among other activities, the Council for the first time obtained membership for students on faculty committees. This proved successful throughout the year. A new and radical dress "uncode" was created. Noon luncheon meetings were held with the faculty to discuss areas of mutual interest. In accordance with the new constitution, 3 all-school Student Council assemblies were held at which officers and members of the Council answered questions concerning the performance of their duties. Homerooms were also held with the various classes. Homecoming was directed by a committee composed of non-Council members.

Officers this year were Bob Adams, president; Brian Abel, vice-president; Janet Gabler, corresponding secretary; Tim Davern, treasurer; Cheryl Bryan, recording secretary; Jean Wilde, presidential assistant. Representatives elected by the classes were the following: Randy Bernhard, Steve Julstrom, Dean Watson, seniors; David Swain, Bob Hull, Steve Castle, juniors; Bill Bowlus, Carolyn Johnson, Randy Kline, sophomores; Jolyn Barsi, Joe Hull, Kim Horton, freshmen; Dorothy Hull, Andy Flint, eighth; Jim Sallee, Eddie Sawyer, seventh.

The active Student Council strikes out on a cleaning crusade as they wage an over-flowing war against the no-no's of littering. Onward Christian soldiers!

Mr. Bettis, Jan Rimbey and Marilyn Simpson lend an ear to Bob Adams in one of the noon hour curriculum discussions which were a part of a Student Council sponsored student-faculty relations program.

Council Challenges Status Quo

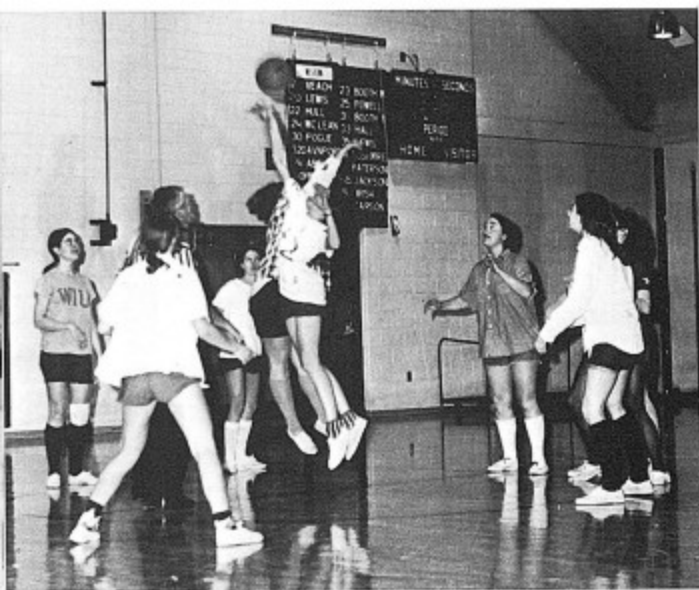

Conversation flows from teacher to student as curriculum discussion is held during the noon hour.

The freshmen girls display school spirit by entertaining the student bodies at a pep assembly during the football season.

Classes Provide Variety at Western

The sophomore and senior girls are always sportsmanlike.

Graduation, College, Careers, these are the topics of thought for the graduating senior as he or she prepares to leave WHS. During the year home rooms were devoted to discussions concerning the continuation of baccalaureate exercises. Funds to be used for graduation activities were obtained by means of a boutique sale. Serving as class officers were President Tom Stipanowich, Vice-President Randy Bernhard, Secretary Natalie Powell, and Treasurer Mary Hull with Mrs. Whitmill and Dr. Harding, sponsors.

Junior year means Prom and with Prom, various fund-raising activities were in constant progression, especially for this year's Junior Class. Fund-raising projects included 2 chili suppers, powder-puff football and basketball games, doughnut sales and a card party. College planning was stimulated by the PSAT and ACT entrance examinations. Perhaps the most memorable event of the year was the practical joke of borrowing time by the Junior girls. Leading the class were Lisa Crossett, president; Signe Sather, vice-president; Susi Tinker, secretary; and Van Pogue, treasurer. Class sponsors were Mr. Fox, Mrs. Emme and Mr. Scharfenberg.

Upon acquiring their driver's licenses this year, Sophomores entered the world of dented fenders. Chosen to represent the Sophomore Class were President Bill Bowlus, Vice-President Randy Kline, Secretary Holli Head and Treasurer Dana Findley. The students sponsored game concessions and a candy sale to add funds to their treasury. They gave an after-game dance at the close of the basketball season. Class sponsors were Mr. Houck and Mrs. Stiffler.

The summer sun had faded into autumn once again and September had arrived. Anxious freshman roamed the halls making acquaintances of faces old and new. The adjustment into a new world was for them not difficult. Under the leadership of President Steve Mudra, Vice-President Jeff Hepinstall, Secretary Laurie Crane and Treasurer John Wyne, freshman activities included 3 dances, concessions, a December bake sale and a science field trip. Mrs. Houston and Dr. Hamilton were their sponsors.

Yes, the summer sun faded, bringing summer to an end but for the freshmen, no end, only a beginning of a new life.

Seventh graders begin their journeys through a coordinated social studies curriculum.

Social Studies Methods Are Innovative

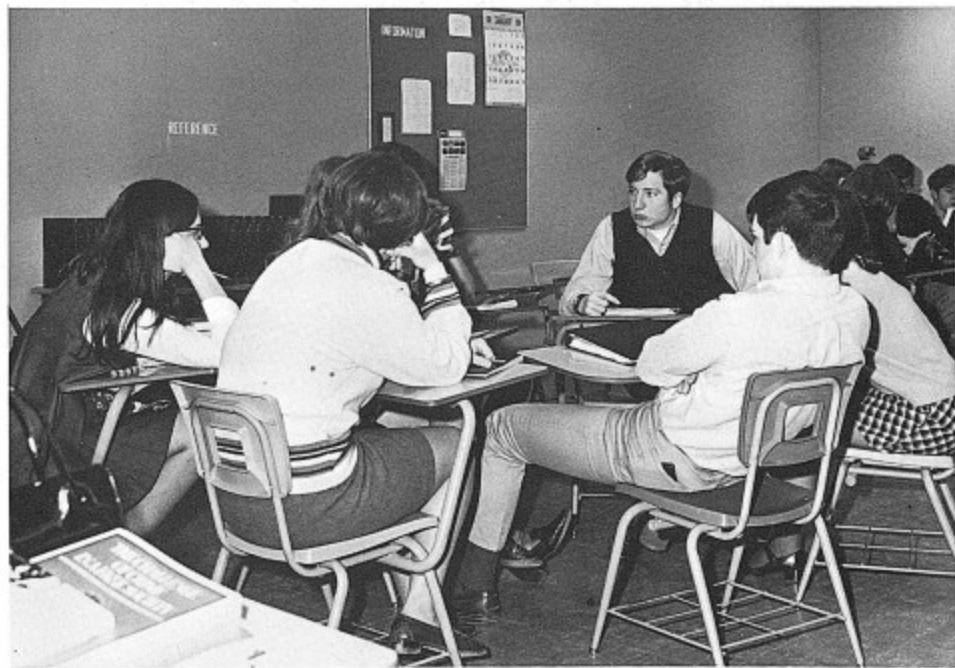

From the Battle of Lexington to the land forms of Africa, the students of Western studied the world of the past and of the present in an effort to chart the course of the future. Seventh and eighth grades received a general review of social studies while the high school was offered U.S. History, World Geography, World Studies and Sociology. The instructors in this department are Dr. Miller, Mr. Batz, Mr. Bettis and Miss Flynn.

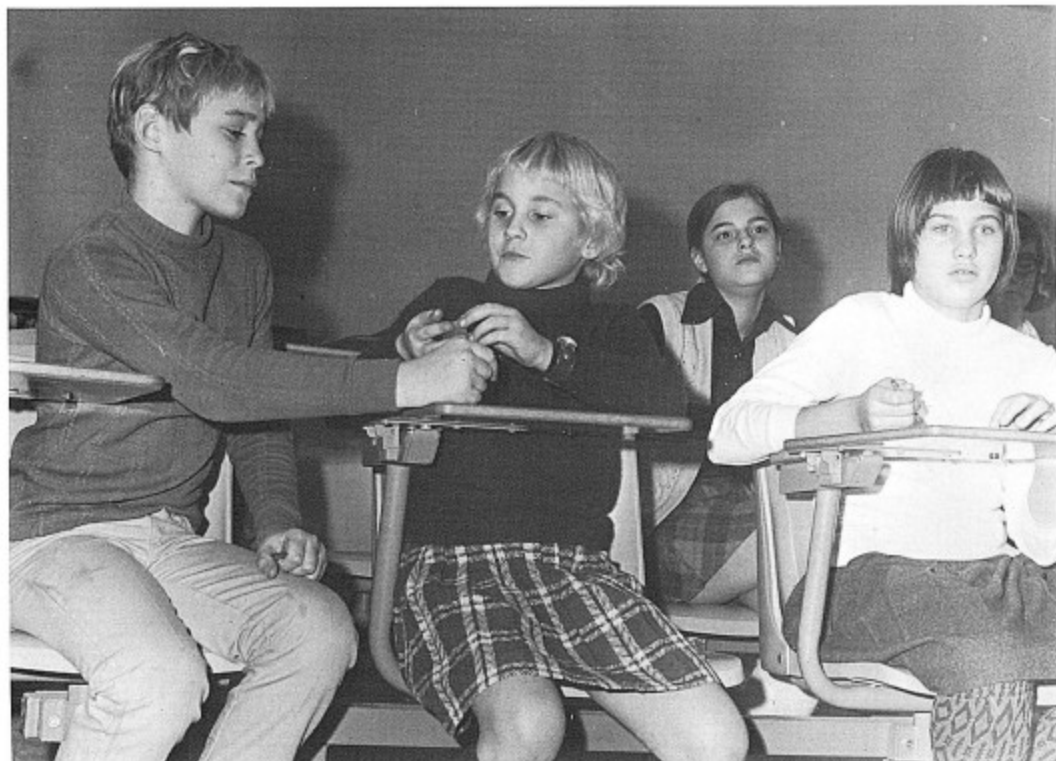

The fifth grade diorama shows the Battle of Gettysburg.

Exciting dialogue stimulates the Geography class as Dr. Bob Pierson and a 301' student discuss important geographic ideas.

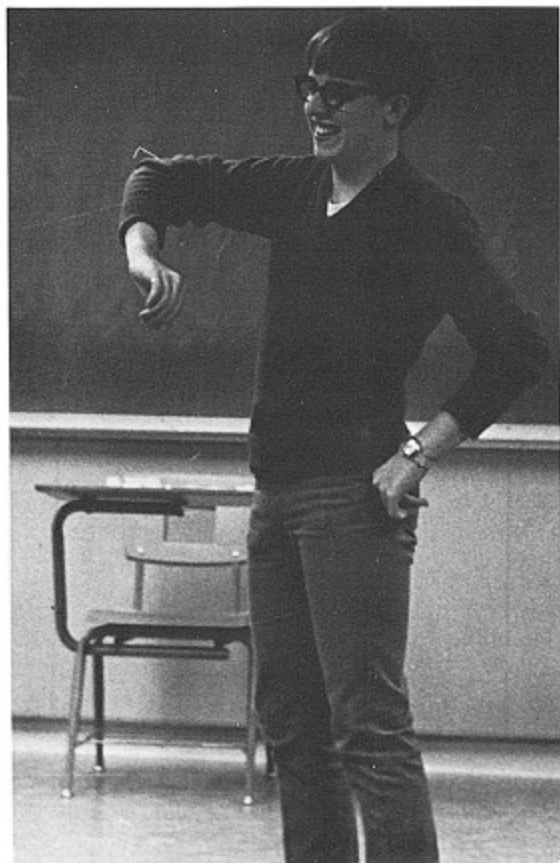

During history class, Curt Veach leads an intensive group of students in discussion as the next move in the railroad game is plotted. All is fair in love and the railroad game.

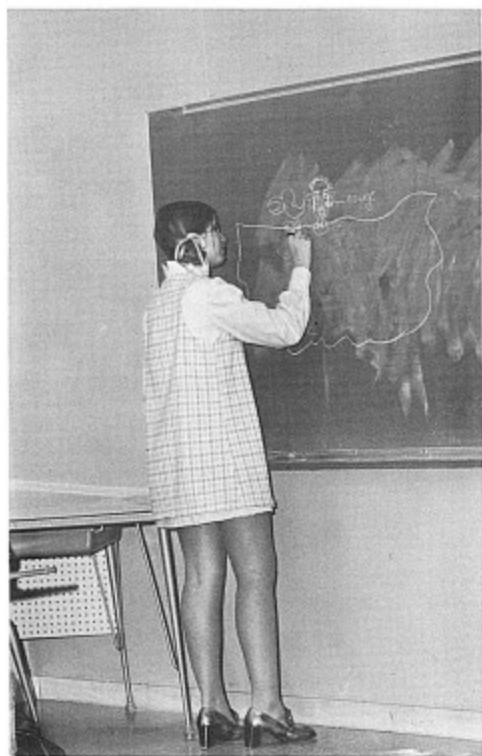

During a creative writing session assisted by Sarah Watts, Laura Billingsley seeks aid from her brother, Greg, while Debra Hamilton ponders her next move. Who knows what might happen next?

A full sequence of English courses is given at Western. General courses were offered in the seventh and eighth grades by Miss Flynn and Mrs. Stiffler; Miss Weidmann, aided by the medium of movies, led the freshmen in the study of Romeo and Juliet. Miss Weidmann and Miss Buckley guided the sophomores in the study of American Literature. From Chaucer to Forester, the Juniors, taught by Mrs. Stiffler, studied British Literature. Miss Buckley led the seniors from the Mahabharata to the Comte Vigney in their studies of World Literature.

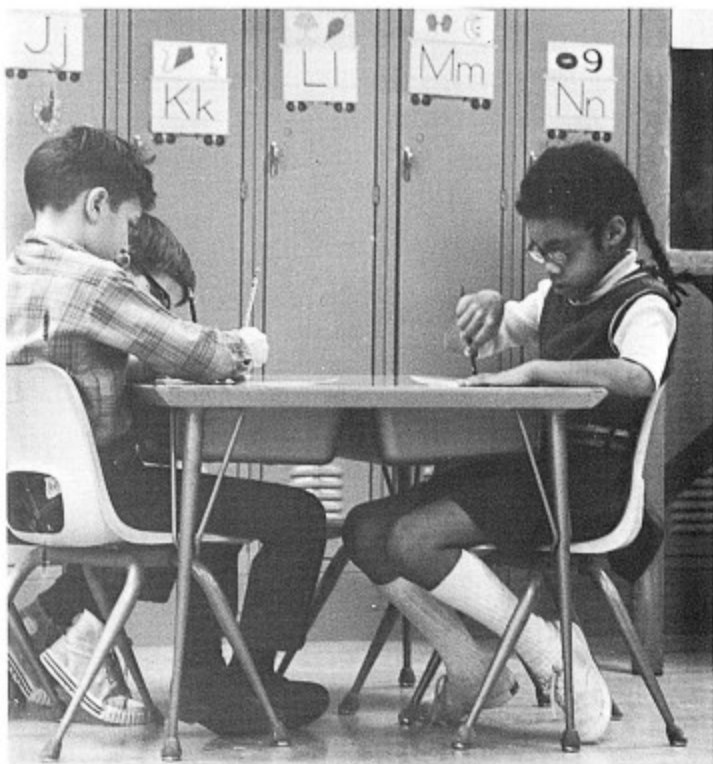

To Communicate Is the Beginning of Understanding

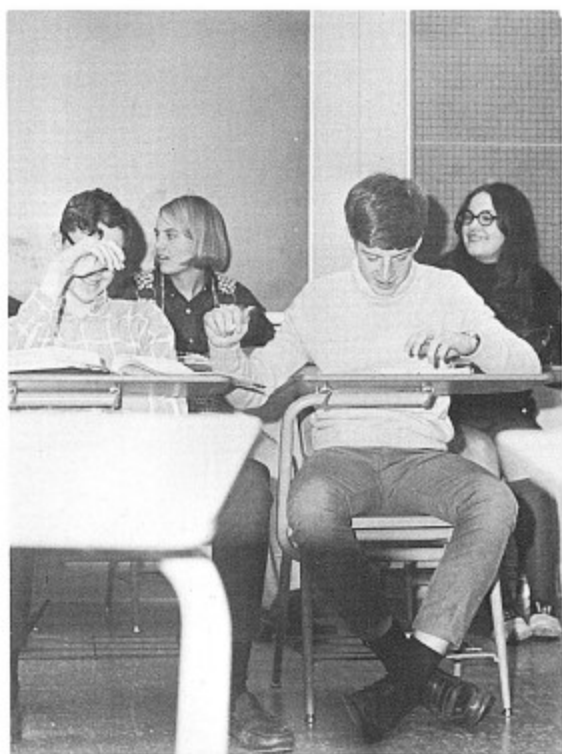

In preparation for adult life, a freshman such as Rick Foster practices charades.

Learning to communicate is a difficult task which Janet Connor diligently applies herself to.

Camille Cox seems to feel that the art of erasure is a definite asset to her activities. Everyone is allowed a few mistakes.

Could it be Mike and Vernon and Judy and Catherine?

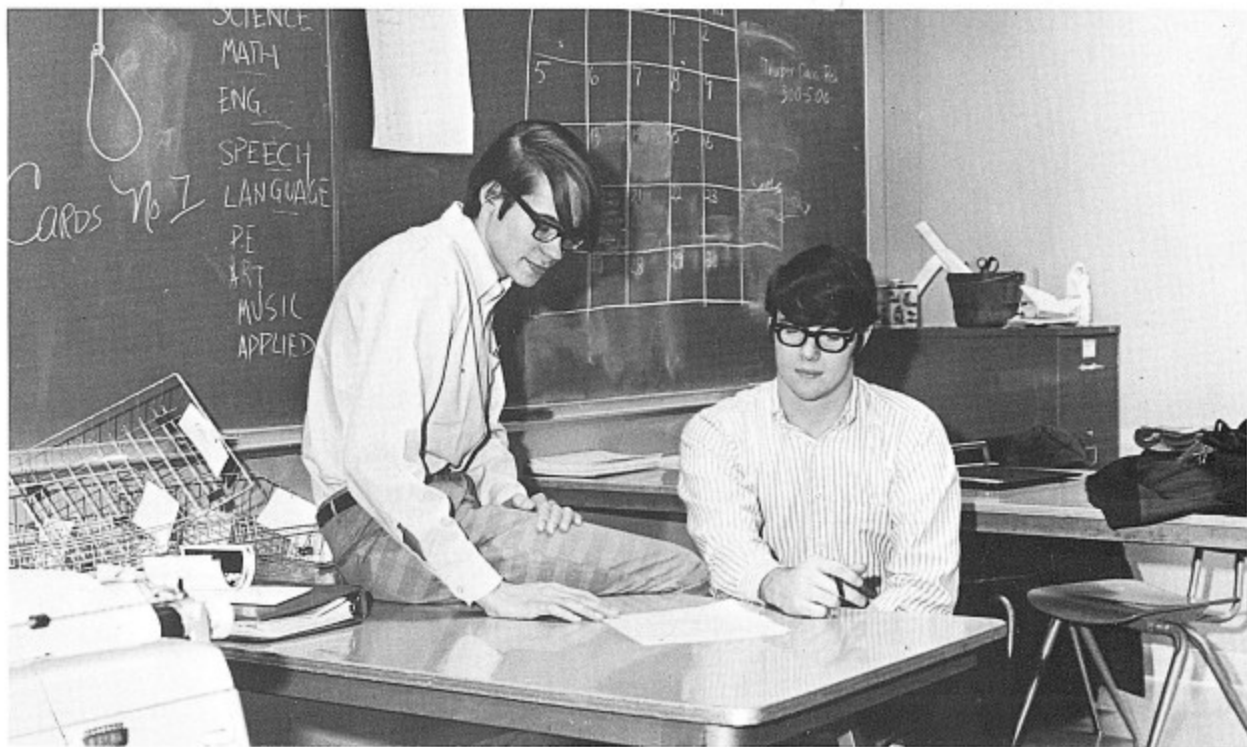

First term Quill and Scroll initiates are Barb Bunch, Janet Gabler and Jeff Joyce.

Quill and Scroll is an international journalistic honorary society. It is composed of members in the upper third of their class who have contributed to journalistic writing in their school. The Isabel Hoover Chapter is made up of Tim Davern, Steve Julstrom, Tom Stipanowich, Jeff Joyce, Barbara Bunch and Janet Gabler.

This year's Epilogue staff consisted of many dedicated and tireless individuals. The Epilogue is a product of 95 per cent hard, thankless work and 5 per cent creativity. The staff this year included Tom Stipanowich, editor; Barb Bunch, assistant editor; Tim Davern, copy; Janet Gabler, faculty; Catherine Flint, grades K-6; Janine Watson, index; Luanne Sanner, organizations; Jeff Joyce and Randy Bernhard, sports; Randy Richardson, business.

Epilogue worker Janine Watson learned early the hazards of gluing her hair to the paper.

Editors Steve Julstrom and Jeff Joyce somehow managed to put out a monthly issue of Panoptes amid scenes of great confusion.

95% of Journalism Is Hard Work

Panoptes, the All-Seeing Eye, included a variety of topics in its wide range of vision. Articles about international, national, state and local events were included with the more typical high school newspaper topics. Co-editors Steve Julstrom and Jeff Joyce and Assistant Editor Janet Gabler exercised their journalistic freedom and encouraged others to do so. Panoptes was financed by advertising for programs for the Holiday Tournament and by allotment from the activity fund.

Hours were spent by John Carson oiling his well-oiled machine in the Epilogue morgue.

Sue Schwartz, Jan Gabler and Joan Galloway search for an answer in a challenging session of the Editorial Board.

Composed of three students and three faculty members, the Editorial Board is the advisory and coordinating body for school publications. The major concerns of the Board this year were K-6 newspaper and the perennial question of finance. The Board also concerned itself with general policies of both the newspaper and yearbook. Members were Tim Davern, chairman; Mrs. Haines, secretary; Dr. Hamilton, Dr. Miller, Pat Pollard and Sue Schwartz.

Independent Study Comes to Western

During a P. E. basketball game, Lee Johnson tries to outmaneuver Randy Bernhard to the basket.

Believing in the maxim, "mens sana in corpore sano" (a sound mind in a sound body), the Physical Education Department vigorously upheld their portion of this statement this year. Led by Dr. Colvin, Miss Saettle, Mr. Karas, Mr. Hepinstall and Mr. Sorensen, the Department offered everything from bowling to weightlifting in an effort to prepare the students physically for the great big world beyond Western.

"You have nothing to worry about. You're in good hands with Saettle."

P. E. produces well-balanced women.

Safety-halfback Dean Watson and Linebacker-tackle Lee Johnson were an important part of Western's success in both defense and offense.

Fundamental blocking drills during practice were instrumental in providing the skill needed for the Western offensive line for keeping out the opponent's defense during games.

CARDS WIN 8 STRAIGHT VICTORIES

The Western High Cardinals closed their 1969 football season with a fine record of 8 wins and only one loss. It was a great season for the Cards, considering that last year the team was barely able to pull out a winning season of 5 wins and 4 losses. Some of the highlights of the season included a 46-0 homecoming romp over Abingdon and a 22-0 victory over Knoxville, who last year beat the Cards in the homecoming game. The Cards' only set-back was a 14-8 decision in favor of Carthage. This game ended Western's winning streak at eleven.

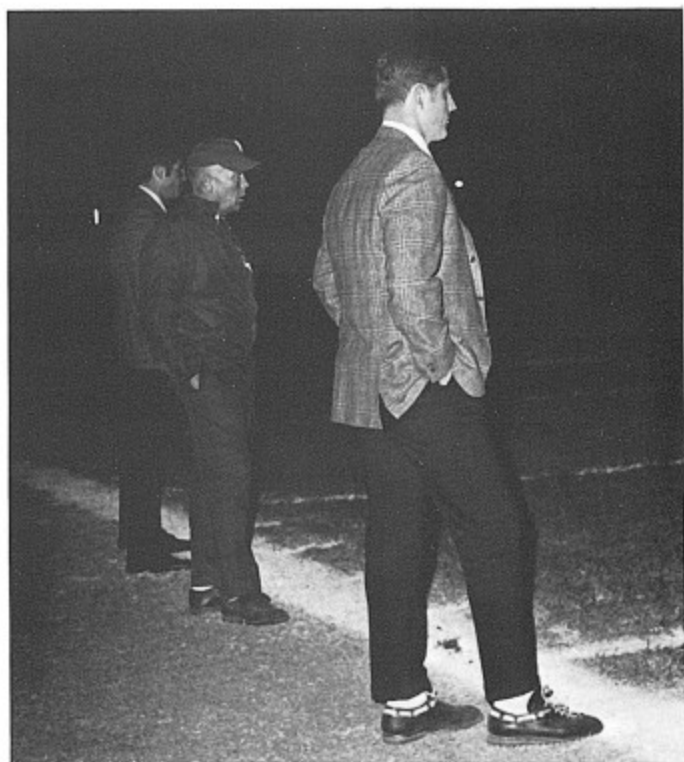

The season was great for individual team members also. Dean Watson, the most valuable player, led the rushing with 881 yards out of 182 attempts, making a 4.3 average. Brian Abel, the most-improved player, completed 34 passes out of 64 attempts for a total of 533 yards and 7 touchdowns. The top receiver was Jack Frost with 14 receptions, and the leading tackler was Lee Johnson with 73 tackles. But as Coach Hepinstall has stated many times "Individuals do not make a team," and that was proved this year.

Coaches were Mr. Hepinstall, Mr. Karas, Mr. McLaughlin, Mr. Lunt, and Mr. Sorenson.

Win Ten Straight at Home

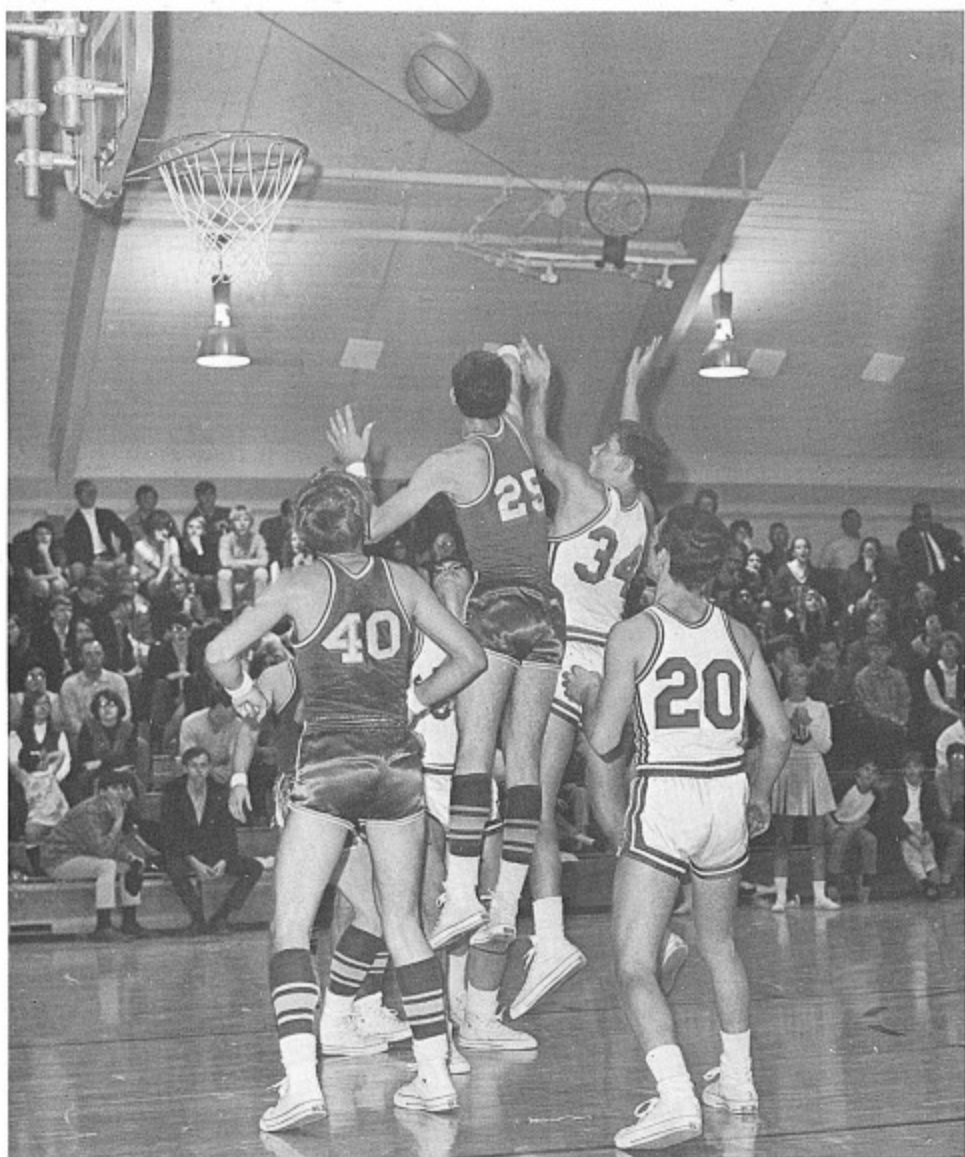

The Western High Cardinals basketball team ended their 1969-70 season with a respectable 14 win, 10 loss record. This proved to be a vast improvement over last year's record of only 5 wins. There were many highlights during the season. The team won the Lamoine Valley Conference with an undefeated 7-0 mark. They also received third place in the county tournament. They were able to win 10 straight home games including Genoa-Kingston, which is a high school a few miles northwest of Chicago. Our players hosted their players and the sophomore class sponsored a dance for them.

Dick Hahn was the leading scorer with a 17-point average. Other starters for the Cards were Van Pogue, Bob Hull, Phil Davenport and Brian Abel. Davenport and Abel, along with Don Wehrly, will be graduating this year. Two other regulars were Al Ferguson and Steve Castle. Curt Veach was a standout in popularity. Other members of the team were Mike Lewis, Jim McLean, Scott Sproull, Larry Summers and Bill Bowlus. With the great amount of experience the team received this year, it is most probable that next year the Cards could have their best season yet.

The freshmen had a season of learning and gaining experience. The team defeated Macomb High as the highlight of the season. Although at one point the team had a 5-0 record, the final record was 5-6 as the team lost momentum after the first part of the season.

This year's Comets, led by Coach Joe McLaughlin, had a successful season. The Heavyweights broke even with a 6-6 record and placed fourth in the county tournament held at Edison Junior High School. Controlling the boards were Roger Perry, Bill Adams and Doug Van Dell. The guards were Greg Grossner and Andy Flint. Filling in as guard and forward respectively were Jon Scharfenberg and Chuck Walter.

The Lightweights finished 4-7 behind guards Eddie Fritz and Jon Scharfenberg. In the first half of the season, Doug Van Dell played center and in the second half, Mike McTeague filled in after Van Dell went to the Heavyweights. Frank Moon, Scott Foster and Jim Dakin shared the forward spot.

Enthusiasm is a virtue at Western.

The muffled blank of the starting gun echoes. The race has begun. Hours of practice, aching muscles, red, stinging eyes resulted in the agony of defeat or the reward of victory. While the swim team felt this second season to be a disappointment, it was an improvement over last year, and the outlook for next year gives us something to look forward to.

SWIM TEAM BREAKS 6 INDIVIDUAL RECORDS

"We're loyal to you Western High!" This was the motto of this year's active group of cheerleaders: varsity, junior varsity, and junior high. The varsity cheerleaders were Seniors Kris Shanks and Kathy Nicholson and Juniors Sue Schwartz, Judy Walton and Janet Morgan. The junior varsity cheerleaders were Brigid Roark, Karen Nielsen, Nancy Shanks, Laurie Crane and Dana Findley. The junior high school cheerleaders were Dorothy Hull, Janet Monger, Lisa Dively, Marta Kellogg and Kelly Hagerty.

This was Kathy Nicholson's sixth year as cheerleader.

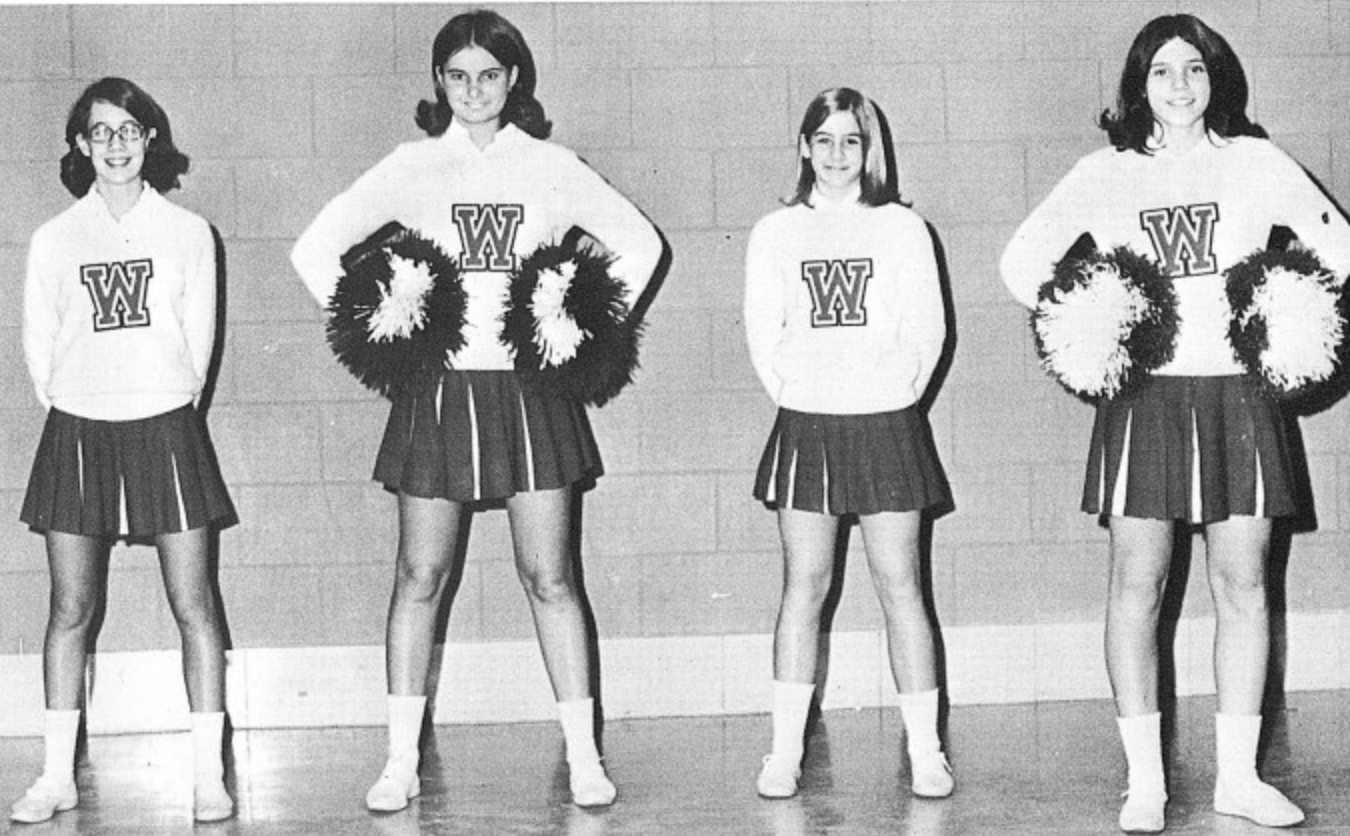

Juniors Janet Morgan, Sue Schwartz and Judy Walton enthusiastically led cheers throughout the athletic season.

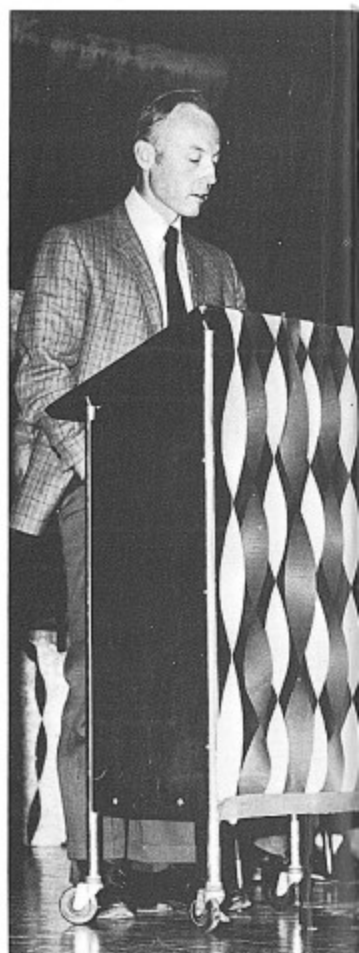

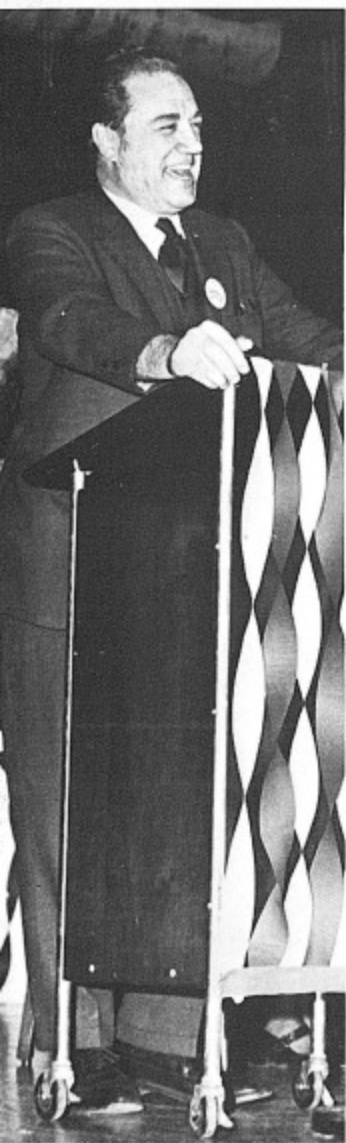

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders Bridgid Roark, Laurie Crane, Nancy Shanks, Dana Findley and Karen Nielsen model their W's.

Cheerleaders Aid School Spirit

This year's Comets were cheered on by Lisa Dively, Dorothy Hull, Janet Monger, Kelly Hagerty and Marta Kellogg.

Assembly Kicks Off Homecoming

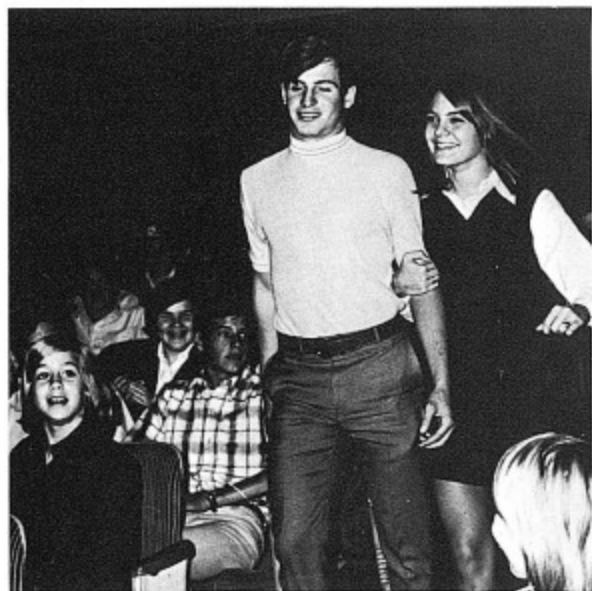

Fun-loving seniors Jack Frost, Lee Johnson, Brian Abel and Alan Lindsey kick off homecoming festivities with their own unique version of the can-can.

This year the Student Council experimented with homecoming by putting a non-Council student committee in charge. This volunteer committee was headed by Mary Hull. Other members were Holli Crane, Tom Mummert, Curt Veach, Eileen Harper, Denny Roark, Janet Morgan, Janet Wanninger, and Judy Walton.

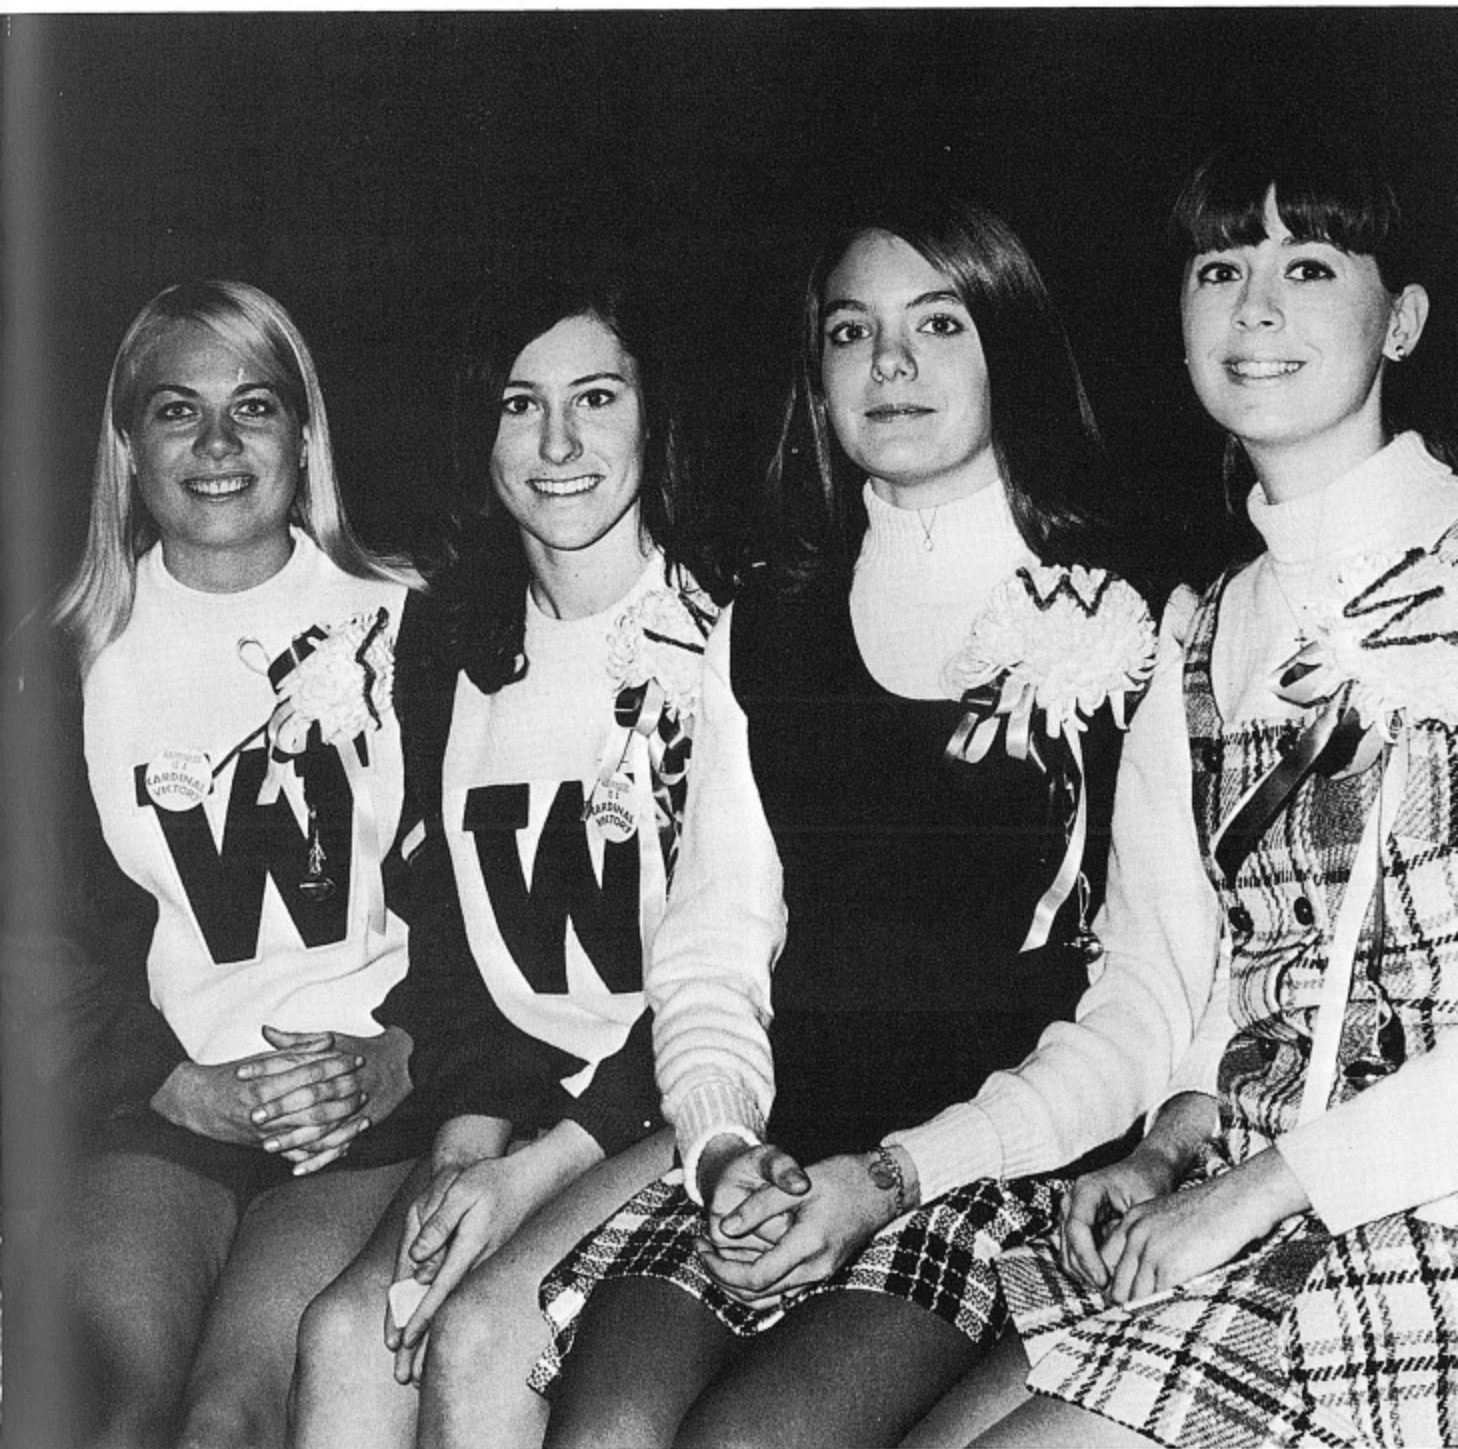

The homecoming assembly was held on Friday, October 24. Speakers for the assembly were Dr. Hawthorne, Dean Abel, President Bernhard, Coach Hepinstall, Coach Ray Hanson and Mrs. Grace McKone Bowers, representative of the Class of 1960. Royalty announced at the assembly were Kathy Nicholson, queen; Phil Davenport, king; Mary Hull, Carol Nudo, Kris Shanks, Brian Abel, Jack Frost and Dean Watson, attendants.

The football game with Abingdon was held Friday night on Hanson Field. The score was Abingdon 0, Western 46.

The dance was held Saturday, October 25, from 8-11:30 in the Multi-purpose area. The "Blessed Few" from Burlington played. The theme was "Somewhere My Love" from the movie Dr. Zhivago. The queen was crowned by Trish Speer of the Class of 1969.

Cheering the Cardinal team to victory at the 1969 homecoming game, these four lovely senior girls, Kris Shanks, Kathy Nicholson, Carol Nudo and Mary Hull, graced this year's homecoming court.

Without that funny-looking box, D. J. Faries and Melinda Cale couldn't possibly tune their flutes.

The band started the season with a new director, Mr. McCutchan. They played for several home games and marched in both the WIU and Macomb High parades. Participants in the District Festival were Mike Devine, Pat Devine, Anita Larson, Karen Martin, Beth Rush and Keith Storey. Mr. McCutchan made plans to send several of his students to spring contest.

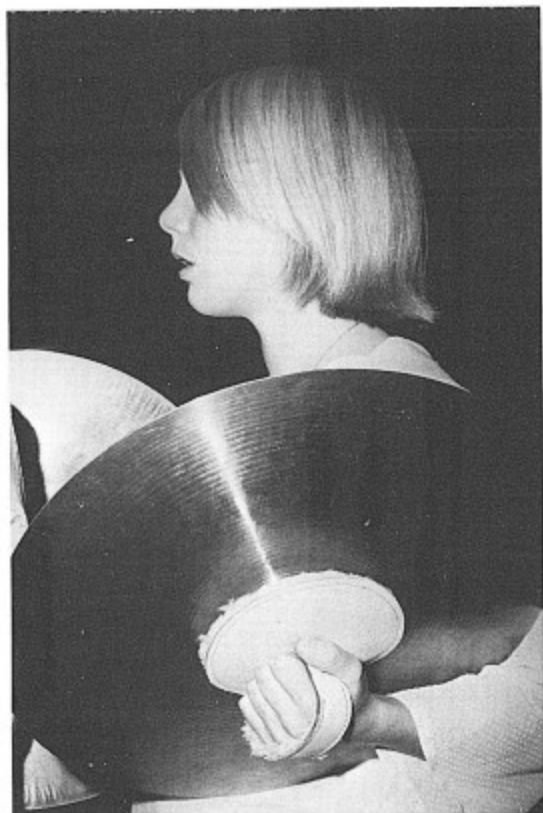

The WHS band marched onto the Homecoming field led by twirlers Dot Wehrly, Connie Davis, Karen Martin, Connie Lansdown and Dixie Douglas. The theme of their Homecoming performance was "The Sound of Music." The girls also performed during the last Cardinal half-time show and participated in the MHS and WIU Homecoming Parades.

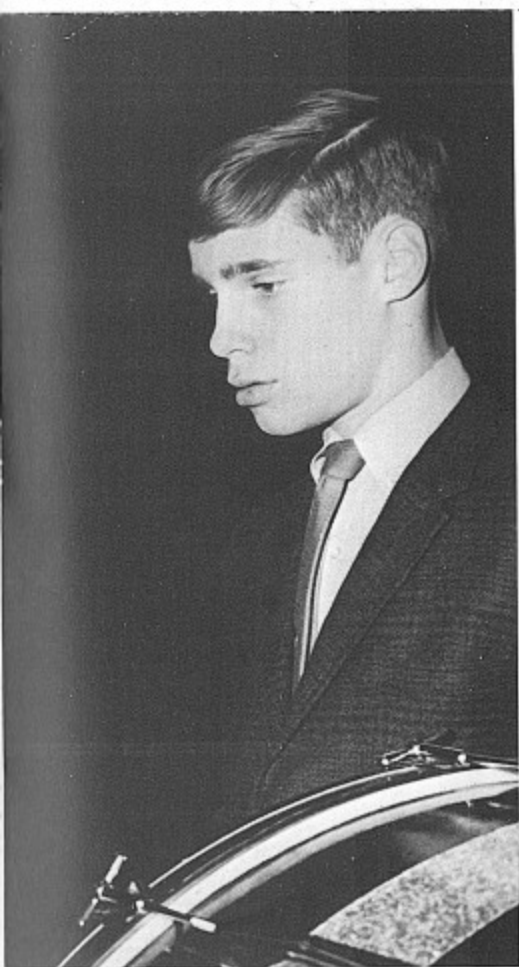

Precision and coordination are necessities for Dixie Douglas, Dot Wehrly and Connie Davis.

"Practice makes perfect" is a theory which Bill Adams and Jon Scharfenberg on the cornet and Jim Gingerich on the bass tried to prove this year in band.

Playing the clarinet is hard, exhausting work for David Stoll and Robby Meline.

Concentration is severe as orchestra members Debbie Findley, Steve Julstrom, Ada Hamilton, Karen Houck, Judy McMurdie and Fred Bugg perform a difficult piece under the direction of Mrs. Crossley.

"And Music Alone Shall Live"

The high school orchestra, directed by Mrs. Crossley, had a heavy schedule this year. Not only did they play for the annual Christmas concert, but they also brought a cheery note to the residents of the Americana Nursing Home and kept the Rotarians awake and entertained after a mid-winter luncheon. Two instrumentalists, Concert Master Steve Julstrom and Cellist Holly Stein made the All-State Orchestra. Officers were Tom Stipanowich, president; Debbie Findley, vice-president; Randy Bernhard, secretary; and Steve Julstrom, treasurer.

The orchestra members are as follows: Steve Julstrom, Tom Stipanowich, Debbie Findley, Judy Hardin, Navida Stein, Kay Severinsen, Joy Johnson, Nancy Tinker, Ada Hamilton, Judy McMurdie, Debby Hahn, Karen Houck, Jan Roberts, Ted Pawlias, Mary Eshelman, Sally Abbot, John Warren, Holly Stein, Ingrid Sather, Jean Harris, Dick Hahn, Scott Sproull, Don Dexter, Evan Kellogg, Kelly Sproull, Kris Severinsen, Bill Bowlus, Beth Rush, Dot Wehrly, Kristin Anderson, Sheryl Shields, Anita Larson, Karen Martin, Cindy Danner, Stephanie Hadder, Susan Pawlias, Beverly Bunch, Fred Bugg, Michael Devine, Randy Bernhard, Brian L'Hommedieu, Ken Hutson, Judy Riggins, Bruce Storey, Don Wehrly, David Swain, Jim Roberts, Dixie Douglas, and Dianne L'Hommedieu.

Paul Connor studies his music intently in preparation for the "big time" of high school orchestra.

The Elementary Orchestra, which is directed by Mrs. Crossley, also a newcomer to the Lab School, is made up of 25 students from grades 4-6. In addition to the grade school Christmas and spring concerts, the orchestra played for the Macomb Business and Professional Women's Club and gave several musicales with the Beginning Strings group.

The following students were members of the Elementary Orchestra: Grace Fritz, Debbie Hamilton, Jim Stipanowich, Lori McMurdie, Sandy Vanni, Nancy Adams, Tammy Carey, Fayla Bodenhammer, Sue Ann Abbot, Jöhanna Sedman, Carol Collins, April Stein, Jane Tinker, Chris Shadwick, Janet Witter, Julie Witter, Julie Bernhard, Janine Anderson, Sallie McCorkle, Paul Connor, Timmy McDonald, Katenka Pendill and Scott Clugston.

Chorus Builds Voices of Western Students

The chorus under the direction of Mrs. Emme was very busy practicing and performing this year. Their activities included solos, ensembles, contest and Christmas and spring concerts. Many members also displayed their singing talent in the musical South Pacific presented in the spring. The 83 members elected Randy Bernhard, president; Tom Foster, vice-president; Kris Shanks, secretary; and Kathy Nicholson, treasurer.

Preparing for the Christmas concert is part of Mrs. Emme's music course.

Meeting twice weekly, the girls' chorus performed regularly under the direction of Mrs. Emme at various concerts during the year.

With the girls modeling their new costumes, the members of the Westernaires are Tom Foster, Beth Rush, Randy Bernhard, Becky Brown, Tom Stipanowich, Judy Hardin, Jim Gingerich and Kathy Nicholson.

This year as in the past, Western's choral ensemble, the Westernaires, performed for a full calendar of events in both the town and university communities. This group, comprised of two representatives from each chorus section, sang various selections from musicals in addition to the usual popular and classical numbers.

Westernaires Sing Musicals

What thinketh Chuck Leefers (back) as he gazeth at Janet Monger, Joy Vanderburg and Navida Stein? Perhaps the Biblical line "Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live."

Musicals Flourish at Western

Bill Bowlus attempts selections from the spring musical with help of Choral Director, Mrs. Emme.

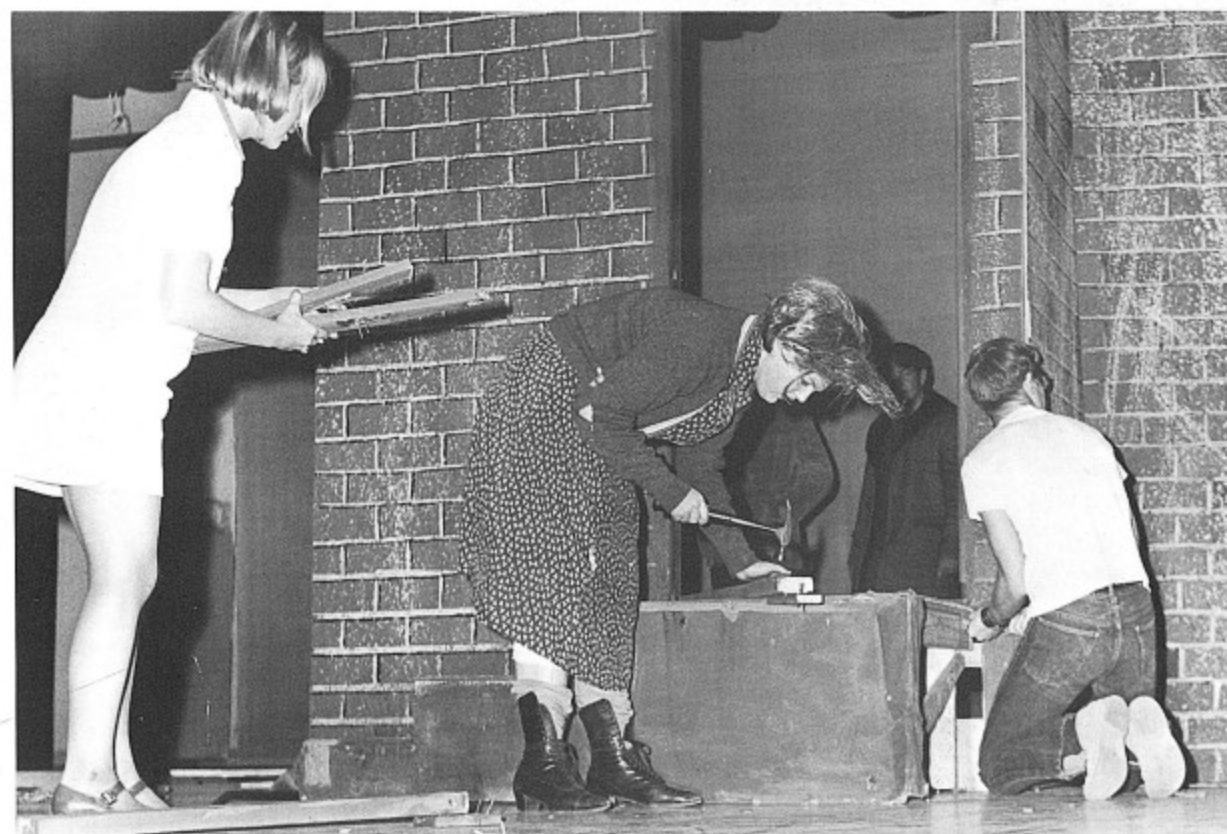

The Wizard of Oz by Frank L. Baum was presented by the Laboratory School in July of Summer School, 1969, in the theatre. The director was Mr. Jerry Elison of Provo, Utah. The cast included Nancy Shanks as Dorothy, Jay Garrison as The Scarecrow, Scott Johnson as The Tin Woodman, Joe Hull as the Cowardly Lion, Mary Sawyer as the Sorceress of the North, Joy Vanderburg as the Wicked Witch of the West, Don Dexter as the Wizard of Oz, Catherine Flint, Pat Lofftus, Mike Devine, John Carson, Craig L'Hommedieu, Keith Storey, Bill Walton, Dorothy Hull, Evan Kellogg, Sheila Cox, Navida Stein, Janet Monger, Chuck Leefers, Jon Scharfenberg and Andy Flint.

Rodgers and Hammerstein's South Pacific was the spring musical presented this year during the last quarter. The musical was directed by Miss Weidmann. The cast included Becky Brown as Nellie Forbush, Randy Bernhard as Emile de Becque, Tom Stipanowich as Lieut. Joseph Cable, Kathy Findley as Bloody Mary, April Stein, Mark Johnson, Dick Hahn, Peggy Johnson, Alan Ferguson, Joe Hull, Bill Bowlus, Mike Devine, Ed Bear, Tim Joyce, Tom Abbot, Jim Gingerich, Judy Hardin, Kathy Nicholson, Kathy Raymond, Cathy Davern, Monica Hawthorne, Debbie Mansir, Linda Bowlus, Marilyn Simpson, Jay Garrison and Al Lindsey.

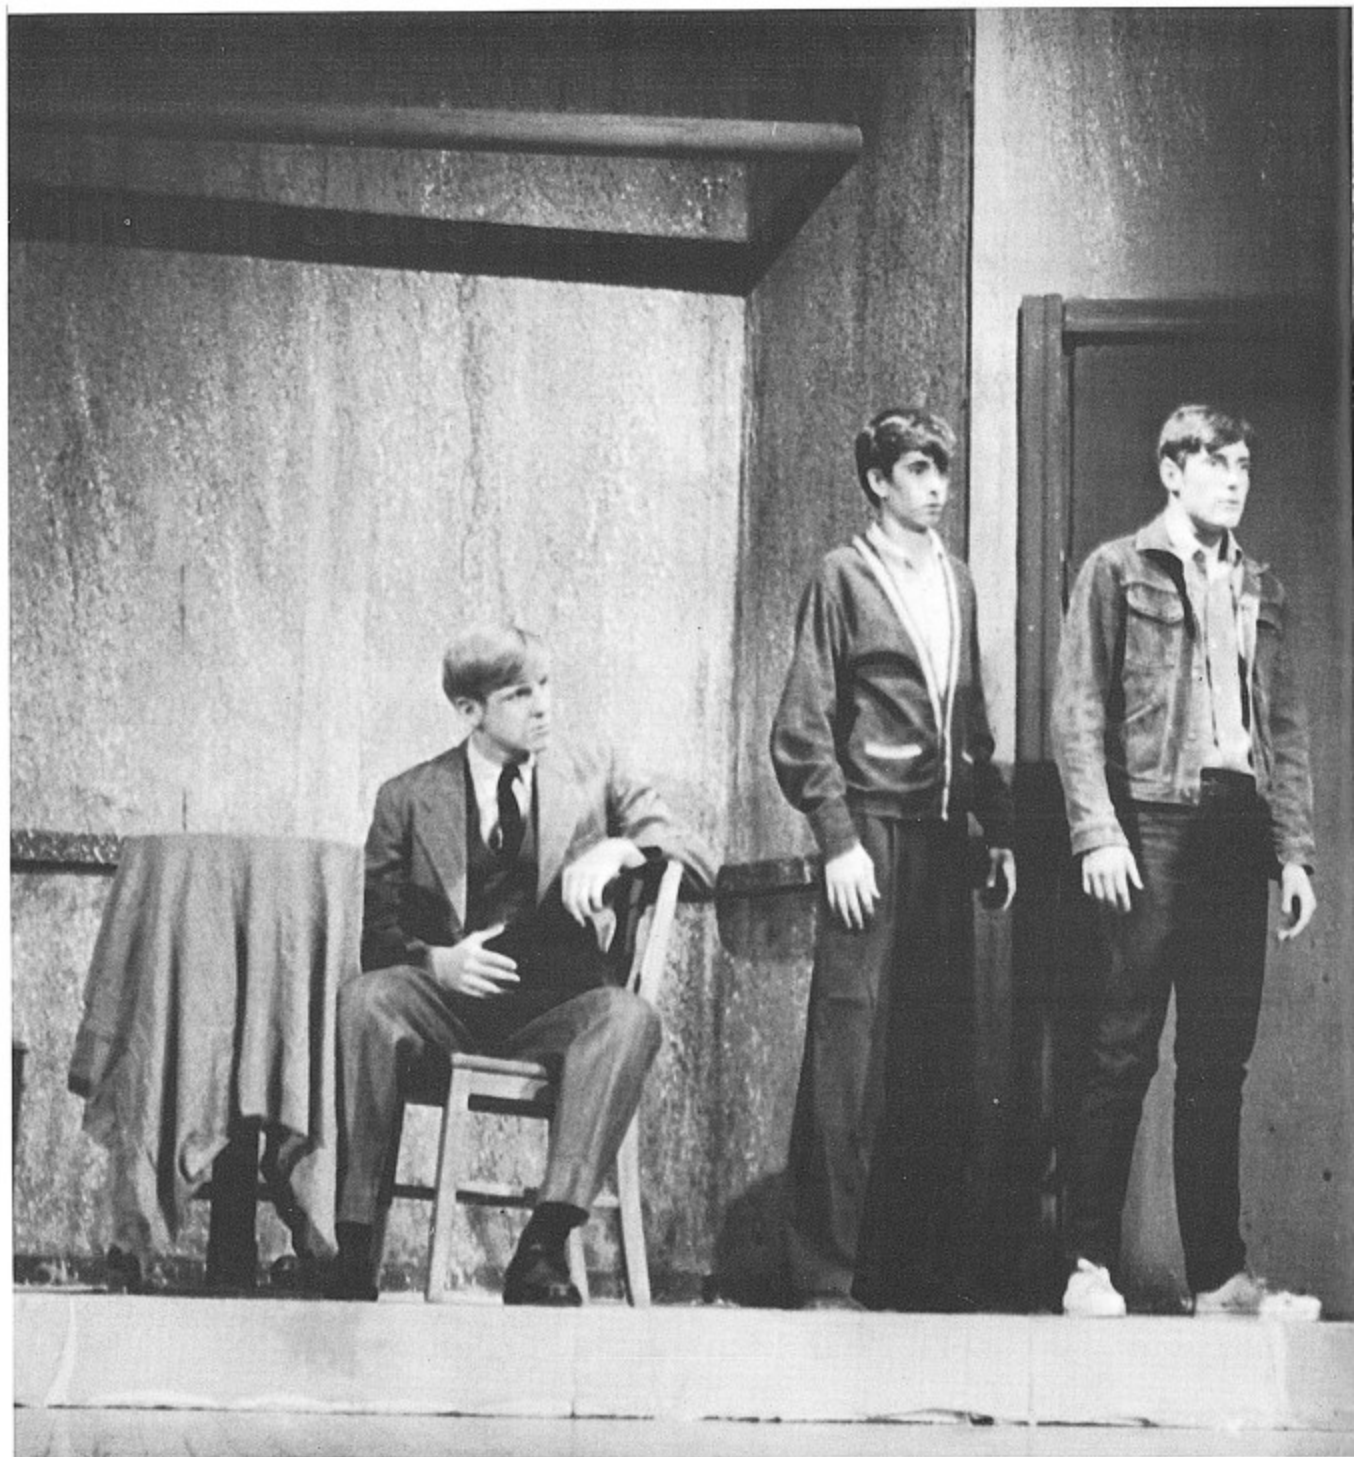

Debate, original oration, poetry reading, drama and extemporaneous speaking — all of these forms of oral communication were practiced by the speech department of Western. Under the direction of Miss Weidmann, the students participated successfully and unsuccessfully in tournaments and plays throughout the state.

All right, Miss Weidmann, you were told you could put on Winterset, not Oh Calcutta.

Holle Crane, Janet Wenzell and Ken Hutson find knowledge gained in Industrial Arts invaluable in set construction.

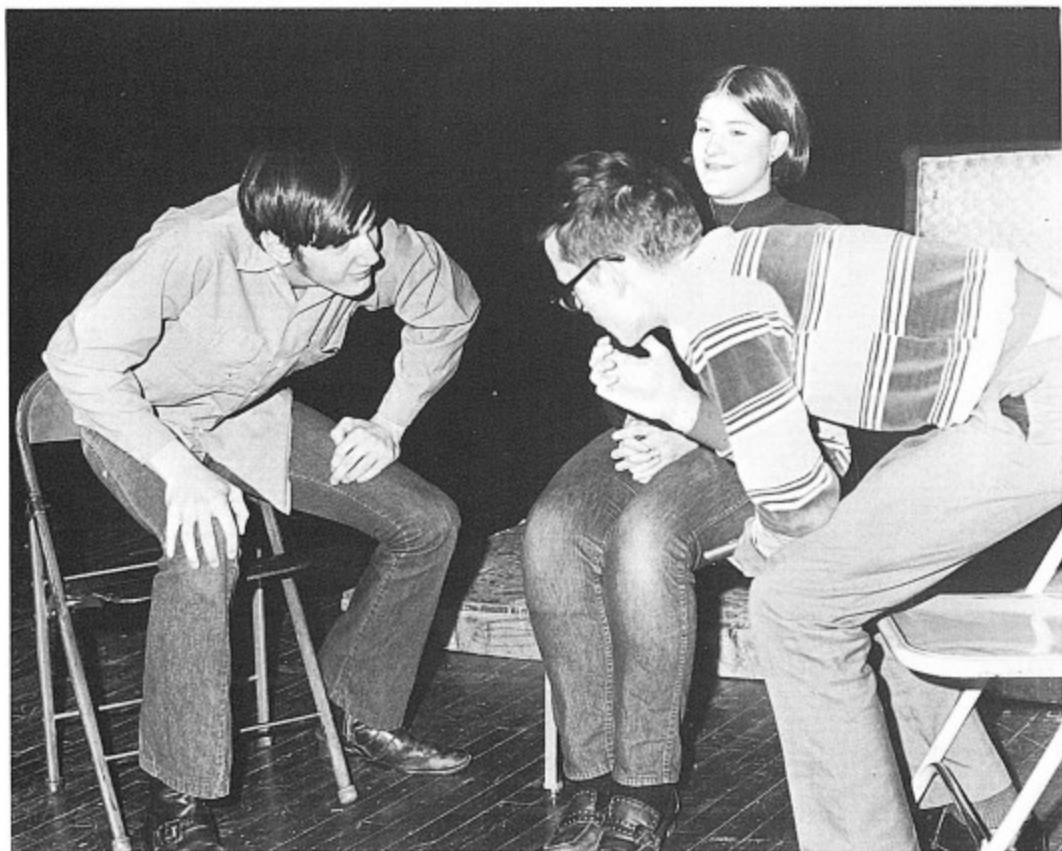

Whodunit? A weary Judge Gaunt (Randy Bernhard) and a worried Esdras (Pat Pollard) look on as Mio (Tom Stipanowich) questions Garth (Tim Joyce) about a murder for which an innocent man was condemned to death in Maxwell Anderson's Winterset, presented November 19, 20, and 21. Also in the play were George Guzzardo (upper right) as a sailor and Linda Bowlus and Alan Lindsey as gangster types. Beth Rush played the part of Miriamne in a cast that included Ed Bear (Shadow), Evan Kellogg (Carr), Cathy Davern, Ross Archbold, Judy Hardin, Steve Peterson, Janet Wenzell, Melanie Schraemeyer, Stephanie Hadder and Bruce Thornberry.

Winterset Starts Theatrical Year

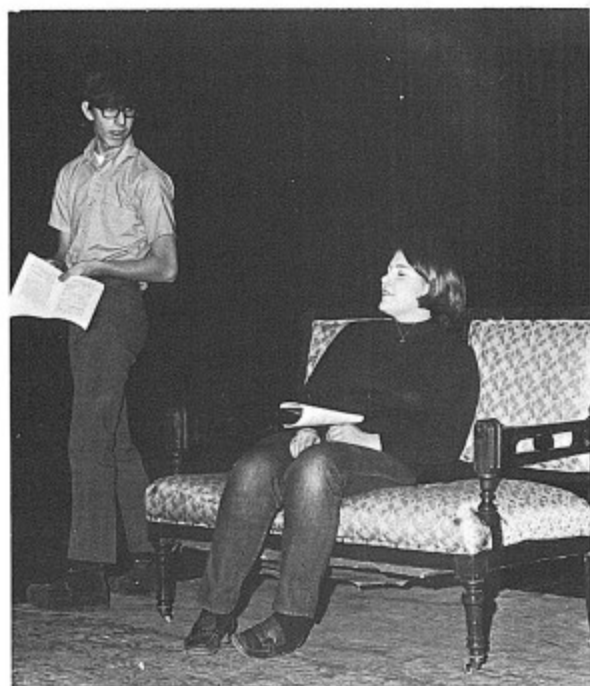

Ed Bear, Debbie Findley and Richard Hardin never did resolve the question of whether unicorns exist. Also in the cast were George Guzzardo, Holli Crane and Kathy Findley.

Thurber Carnival Is Winter Play

The International Thespian Society initiated the following students in early spring: Randy Bernhard, Melanie Schraemeyer, Holli Crane, Tim Joyce, Becky Brown, Judy Hardin, Al Lindsey, Ken Hutson, Bill Bowlus, Carol Nudo and Steve Peterson. Other members were Tom Stipanowich, Karen McTeague and Cheryl Bryan. This group consists of those students who have performed outstanding services in the field of dramatics.

Drama Club, the organization which puts on plays at Western, was extremely active this year. They gave Winterset by Maxwell Anderson, Thurber Carnival by James Thurber and South Pacific by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein. Without the help of this organization, plays would be few and far between; they provided all of the technical assistance for the plays. Officers were President Randy Bernhard, Secretary Monica Hawthorne and Treasurer Tim Joyce. The membership, as described by Miss Weidmann, was a "cast of thousands."

"Close your eyes and I'll kill ya!"

Once again this year Western's debate team embarked on its seemingly ceaseless rounds of formal disputation throughout the state. Composed of both novices and veterans of other verbal battles, Western's team was once again guided by WIU student Gary Sylvester. Although the work was long and hard and the rewards apparently few, the debater did come out of debate with an extraordinary (for a high school student, that is) knowledge of "United States Unilateral Military Intervention in Foreign Countries." Despite constant drudgery and few laurels, Western's debate team trudged ever onward onto the fields of rhetorical combat. Members were Tim Davern, Janet Gabler, Cathy Davern, Janet Connor and Debbie Mansir.

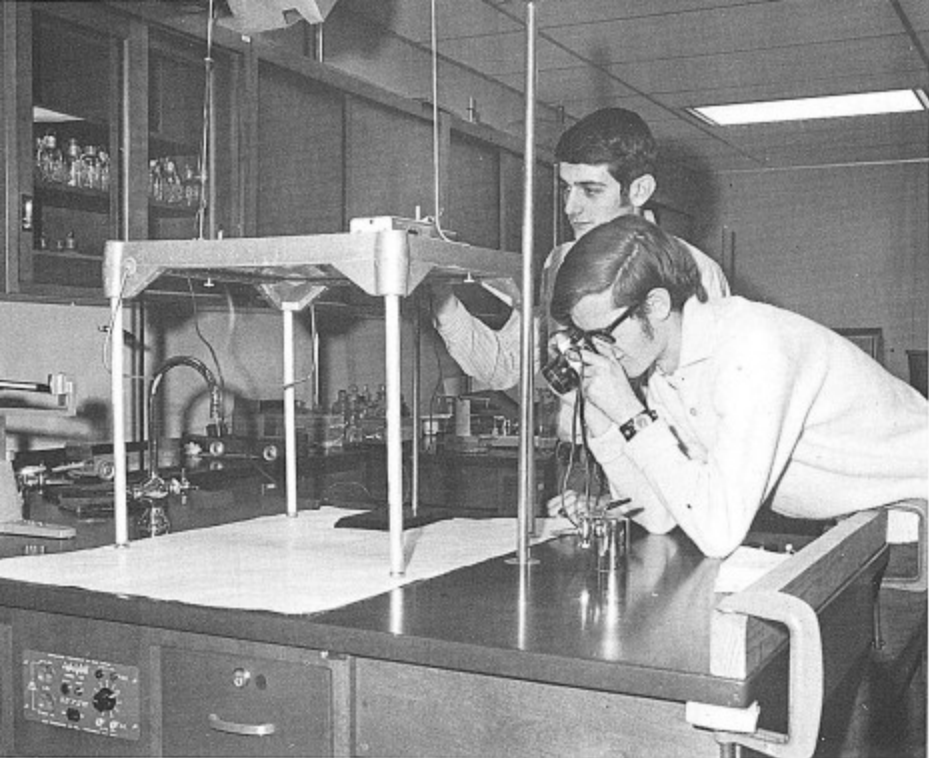

One of the first rules Debators Mike Daniels and Tim Davern learn is never to take a pencil to the podium.

UMI Means What?

Is it possible? Can it be? Debators Bob Adams, Janet Gabler, Mike Daniels and Cathy Davern are actually paying attention to Coach Gary Sylvester. Miracles will never ever cease! (This was a posed picture.)

As Tim Davern and Tom Zimmerman found out, the ripple tank is a vicious four-legged monster which holds physics students captive for months and months and months.

All students at Western take biology and learn how to dissect frogs, the anatomy of a plant and the many forms of a cell.

Democracy is in action even in the scientific world of the Biology Club as President Tom Zimmerman calls for a vote.

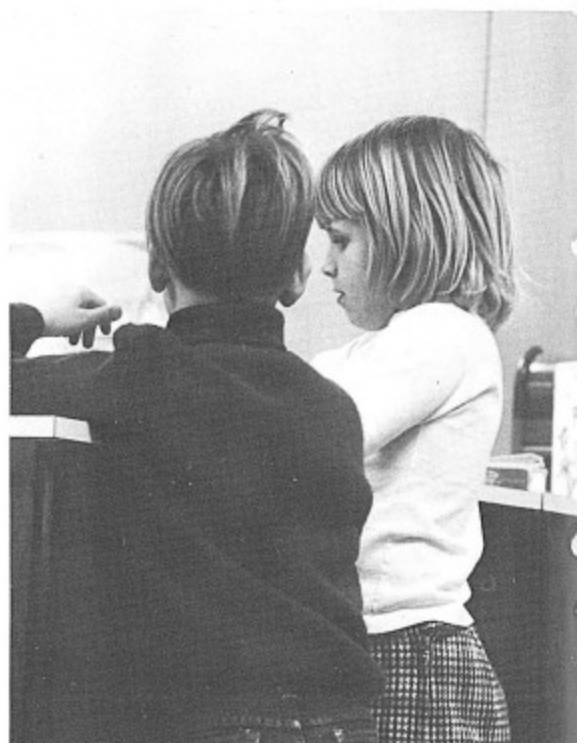

Better Living Through Science?

A full sequence of science courses is offered at Western. Earth Science, Biology, Chemistry and Physics are all offered in an attempt to enhance our scientific knowledge. Instructors in this department are Dr. Hamilton, Dr. Kellogg, Mr. Fox, Mr. Bettis and Dr. Shaver.

The main activity of the Biology Club this year was the annual Bio-Blast. They also managed to go on a canoe trip at the Current River in Missouri. In the fall, the club had a football game and weiner roast at Mr. Fox's house. Presiding over the club was Sponsor Mr. Fox, President Tom Zimmerman, Treasurer Alan Ferguson and Secretary Debbie Findley.

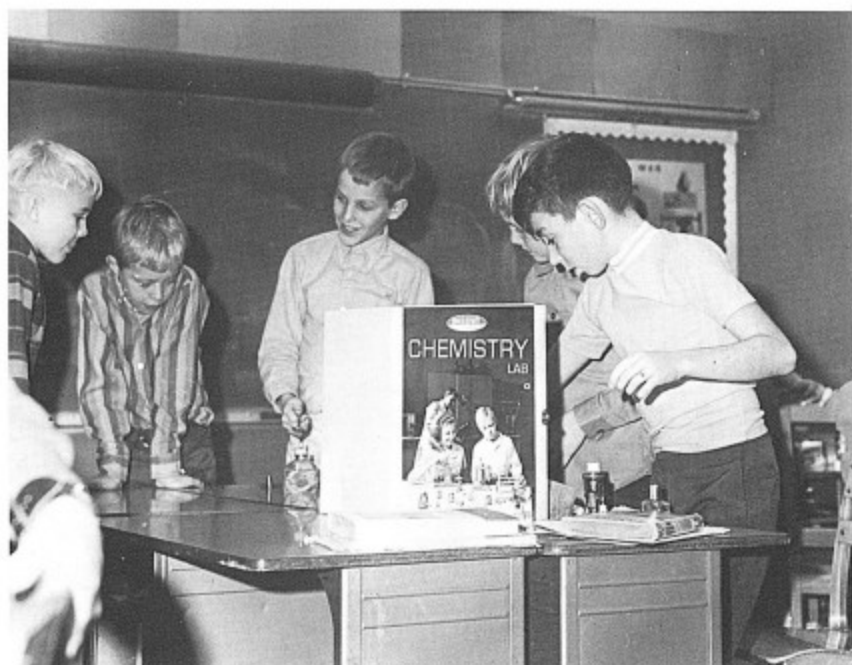

Surgery seems to run in the family as Third Grader Paul Vida diligently applies his science skills to the dissecting table.

The mysteries of science fascinate Mark Dufelmeier and Lori Flickinger.

Science and Math Are Universal

Tommy Pawlias and Paul Vida join ranks in the laboratory with fellow students as these elementary school children explore the depth of chemistry.

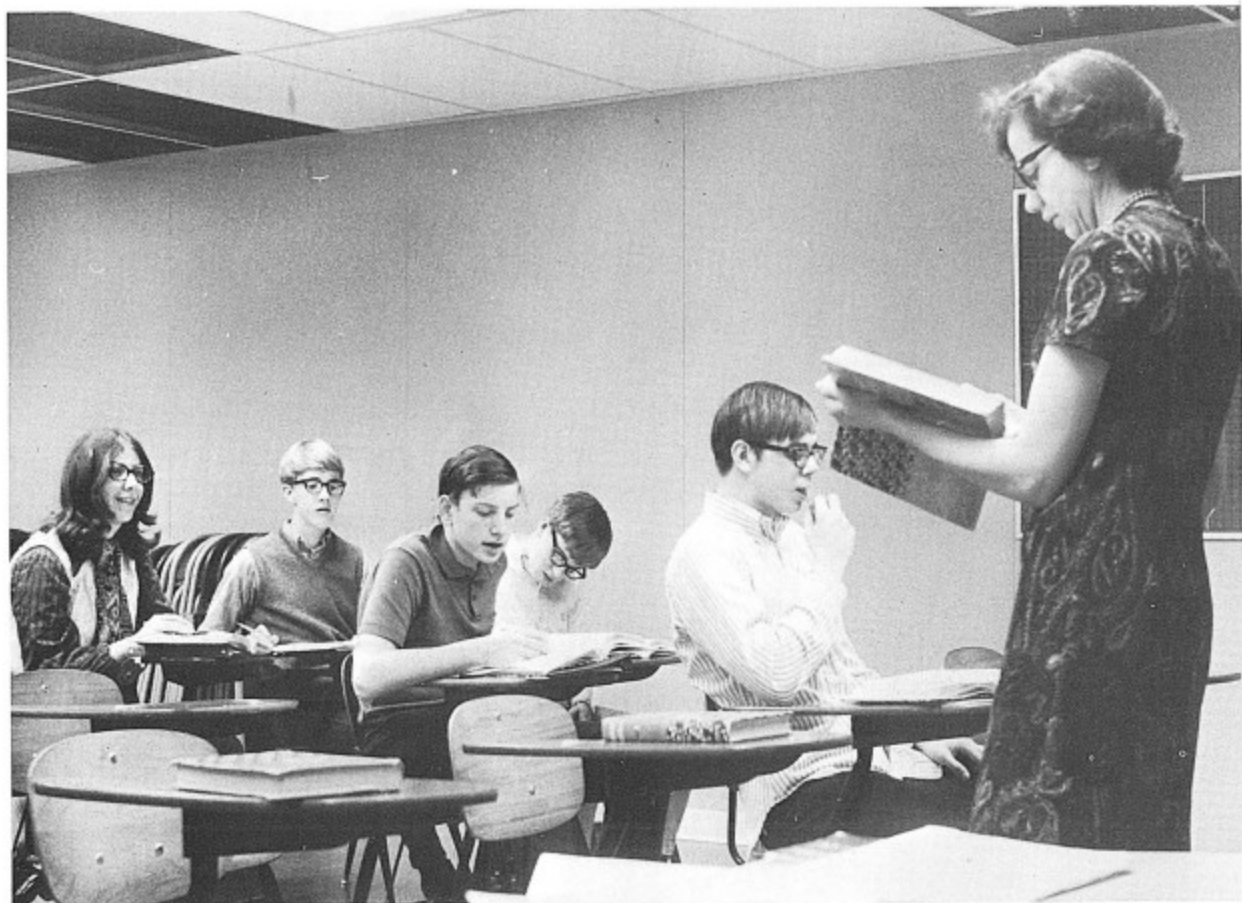

David Horton and Thad Gentry plan to become mathematical geniuses someday.

Fourth graders Liz Karas and Holly Haines want to have their plans put on paper. Wielding a pencil is a special skill of scholars in the fourth grade.

Mark Johnson reaches for higher things as he puts the finishing touches on a mathematical number line.

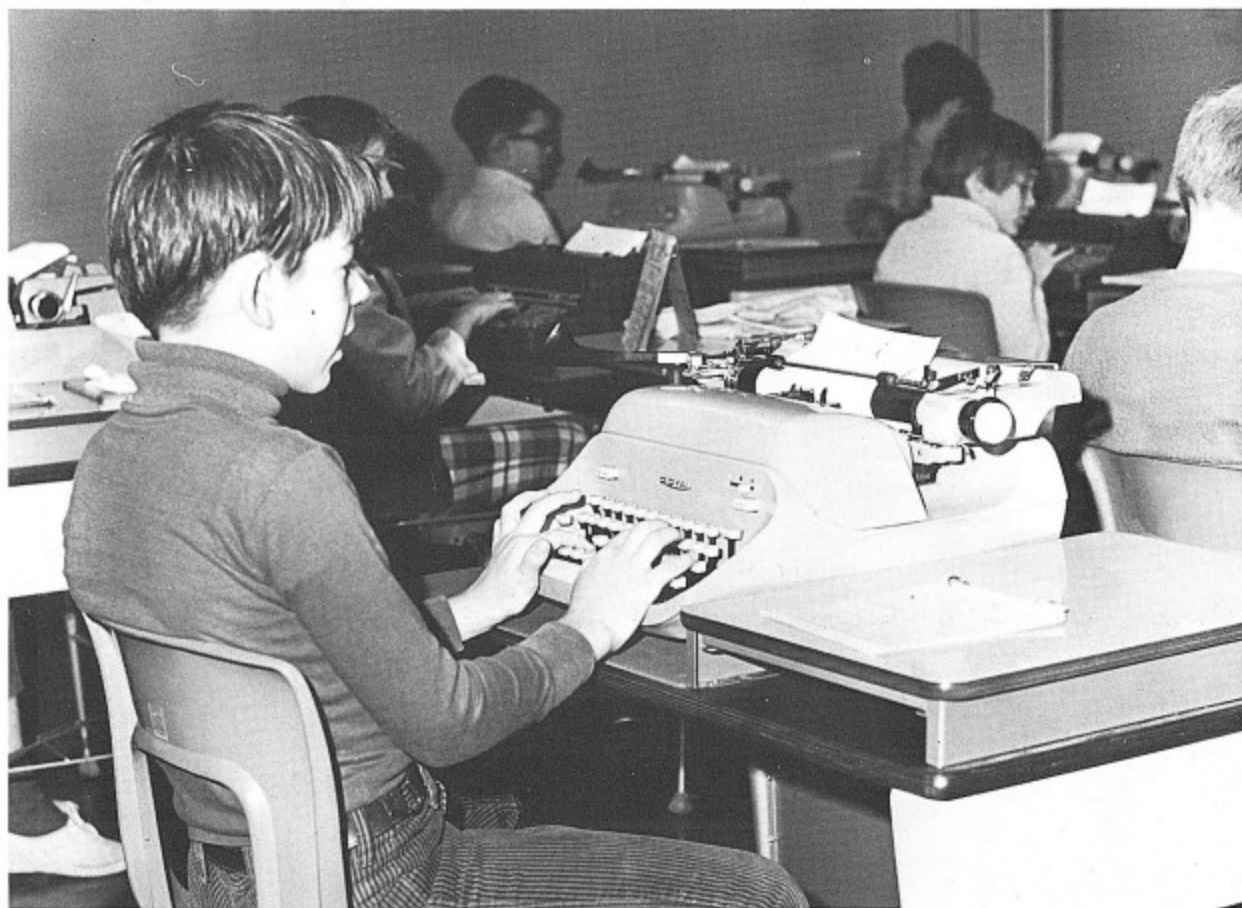

As Debbie Mansir, Chuck Leefers, Kelly Sproull, Rick Foster and Tom Abbot discover in Mrs. Hanson's class, algebra is hard.

Math Reasons with the Present

Math, viewed with varying degrees of approval by the students, consisted of the subjects of Algebra, Trigonometry, Geometry and General Mathematics. Instructors in this department are Dr. Harding, Mrs. Hanson, Mr. Taylor and Dr. Wendt.

Business Faces the Future

Through comprehensive variety of business courses, Mrs. Whitmill taught the basics of typewriting, shorthand and business economics. These courses are helpful for modern living: typewriting both for vocational purposes and personal use; business courses to understand the economics of our society; and shorthand on the theory that everyone should be shorthanded.

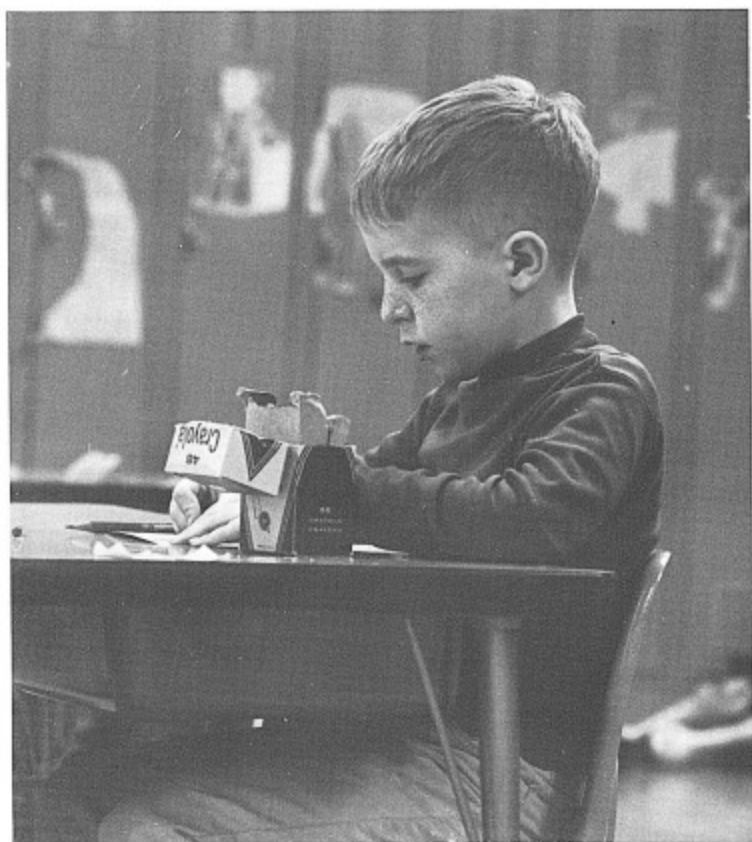

fd fds fdsa jk jkl; fd fds fdsa jk jkl jkl; fj ad lad fad sad as ask ask lad fad all fall all Concentration is an essential element for the typing class of Mrs. Whitmill.

Elementary students use their creative ability to draw artistic masterpieces.

Danny Williams proves that coloring can be a matter of serious concentration.

Art is a means of expression for Tom Abbot and Ken Moon as they become absorbed in their work in the art room.

Art Students Color Bleak Walls

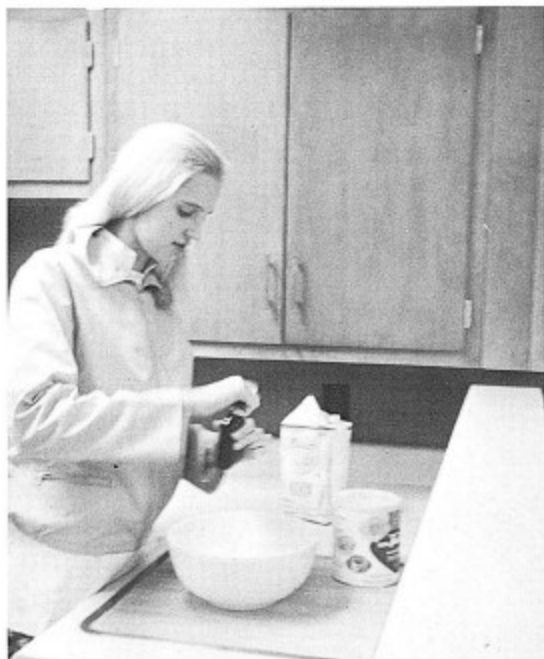

Western's walls became a little less bleak this year through the artistic efforts of students of all ages. Suspended from the ceilings were the paper and wire sculptures of high school students and the chalk drawings and posters of elementary students. Other projects included working with clay and sketching as well as decorating bottles which proved the talent of elementary art students. Art is offered to students of all grades. Teachers are Mr. Scharfenberg, Mrs. Sanders and Mr. Swain.

A 301 home economics student teacher shows Mary Jo Dufelmeier and other students the basics of pattern buying.

Home, Home on the Range!

When Jean Wilde cooks, who knows what will happen?

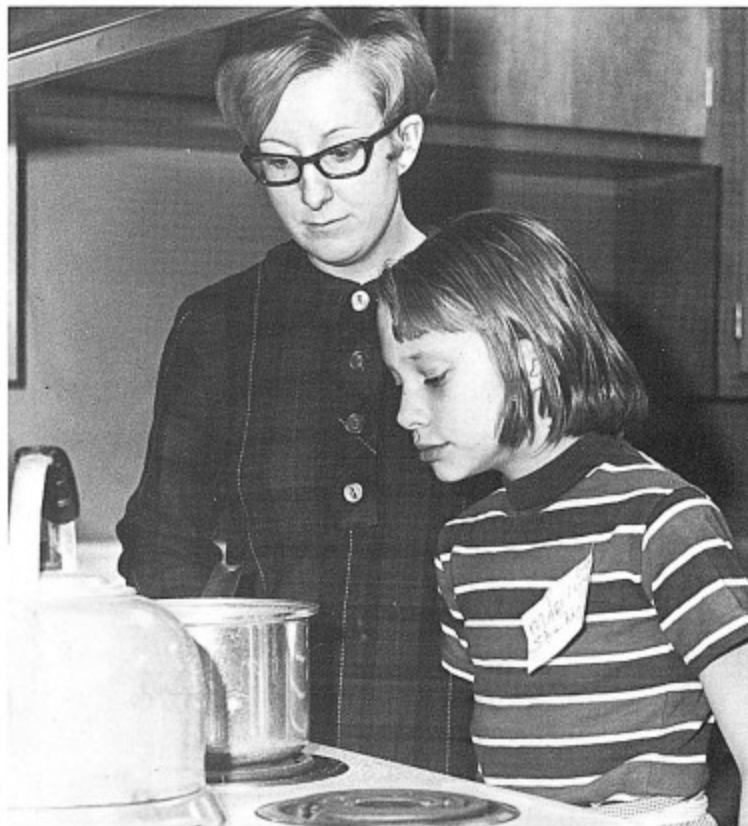

High school girls, taught by Mrs. Conrad, learned the art of home management. The topics studied ranged from burning bacon to burping babies. Freshmen students undertook the task of presenting a Scandinavian dinner; the sophomores sewed; the juniors and seniors worked on their independent study projects.

Trips were made to Chicago and to a nursery school to learn about childhood development. An electronic oven seen there by the students was rumored to be hazardous to their health.

The sophomore and junior girls also participated in a University style show with the help of Mrs. Conrad, Mrs. Houston, Miss Callison, WIU Home Economics teacher, and college students. In May, all of the girls presented their own style show which was memorable and fun.

What lurks in the oven in cooking class? Only Sue Sheldon and Carol Collins know.

Sue Sheldon and an Ed. 301 student seem very unsure of what's cooking. The mysteries of the culinary arts are fascinating.

Knitting holds a strange fascination for Susan Hageman, Julie Bernhard and Lori McMurdie.

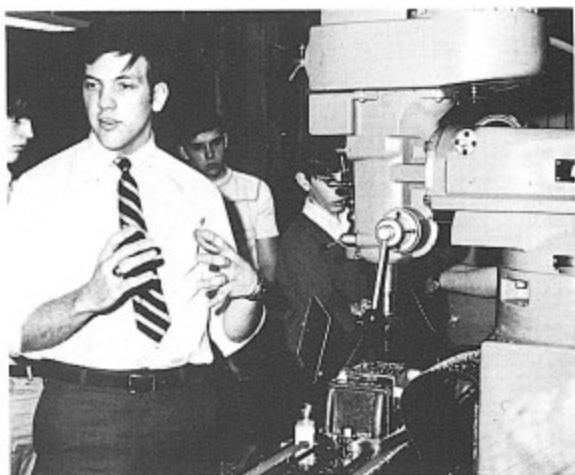

Georgia Henderson and Misty Bainter have Mrs. Swanson to turn to when the trials of knitting get overwhelming.

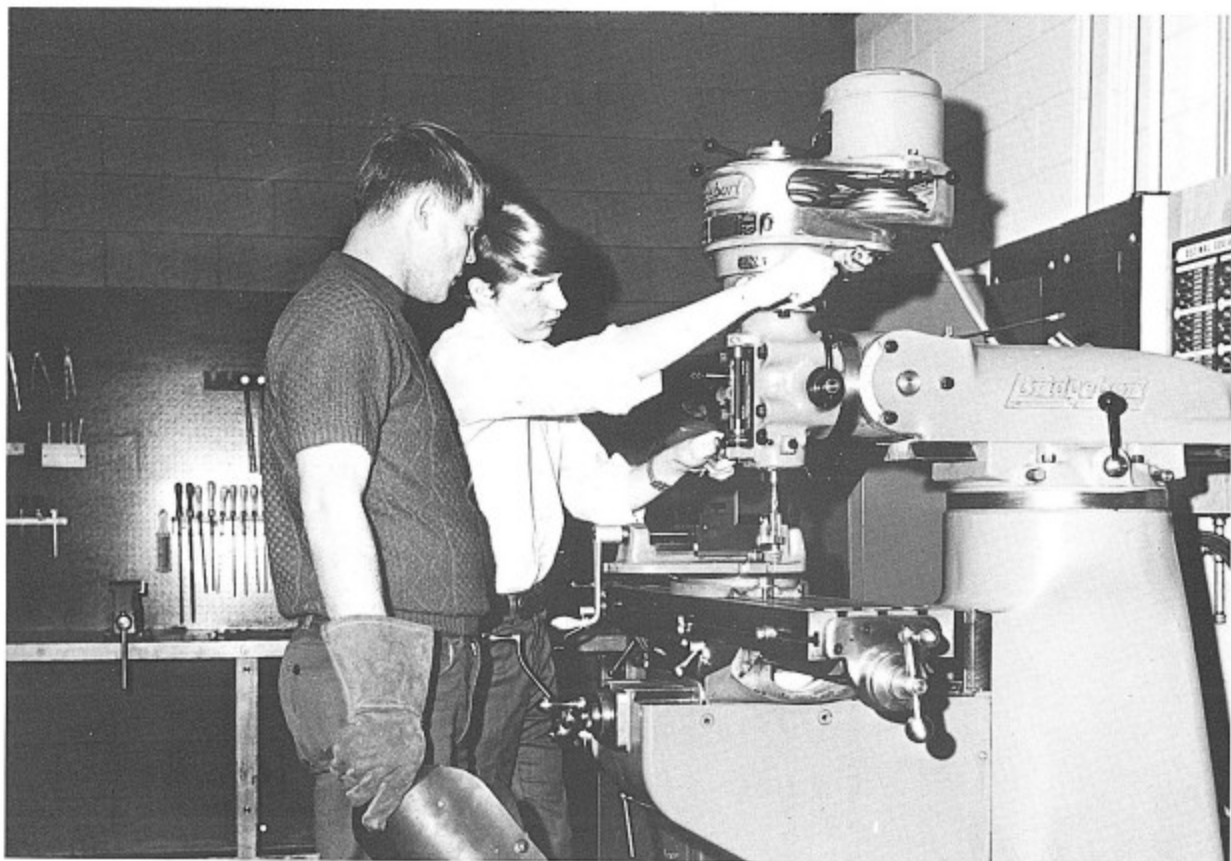

Are they sabotaging it or fixing it? Only Mike Cox and Bruce Thornberry themselves can tell. It could mean an A or an F.

Modern Equipment Aids Industrial Arts

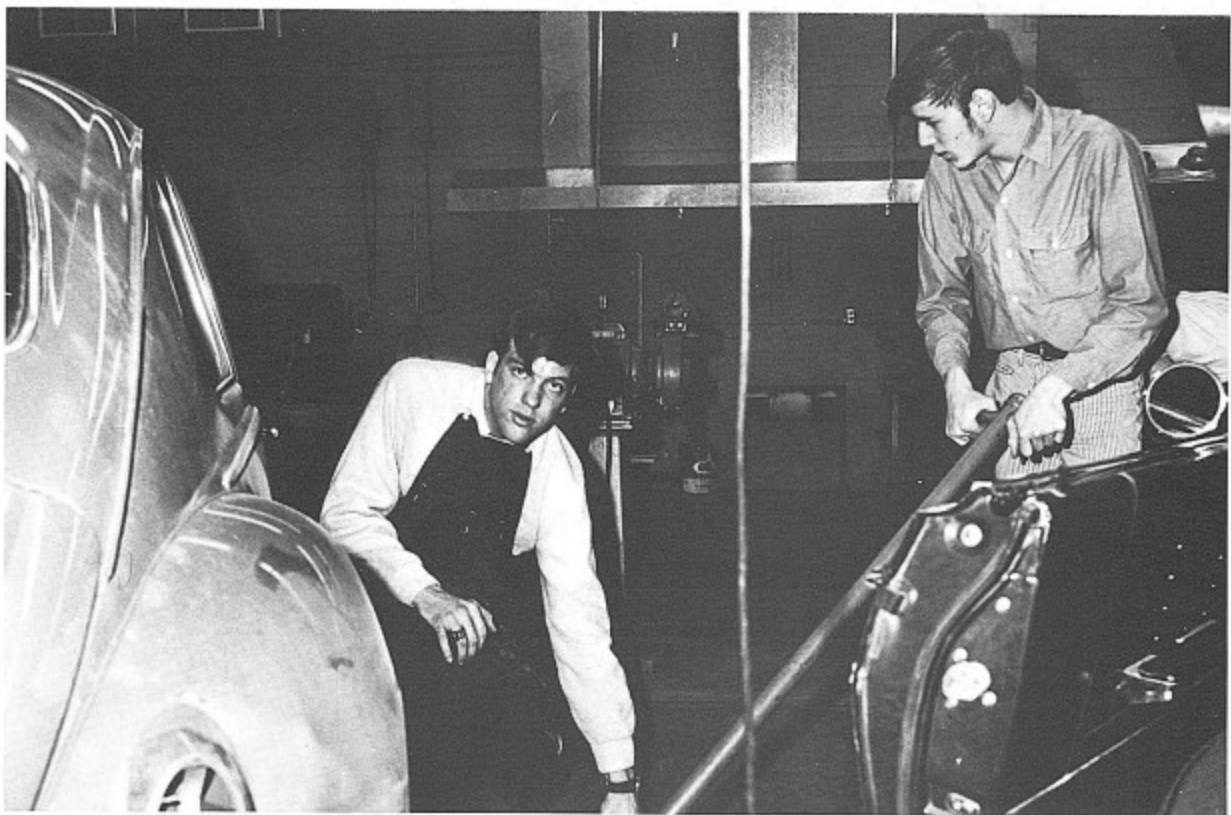

During their junior high school years, all boys at Western must take a course in Industrial Arts. Woodwork, metalwork, and the use of various machines are stressed. The head of this department is Mr. Houck.

The 301er explains but Rick Perry, John Douglas and Rusty Hodges still wonder: will it bite back?

Ed, 301 student teacher helps Randy Richardson learn the art of metalworking on a Bridgeport milling machine.

A 301 student and Ed Bear are surprised by the camera as they do something, dangerous, and complicated with automobiles.

As part of their efforts to create a new spirit of international understanding, the Spanish Club held a Christmas fiesta.

El Senor Tom Mummert y las señoritas Marilyn Simpson and Patty Joyce sing in the tradition of a Spanish fiesta.

Hablan

Spanish Club celebrates Christmas with a Spanish flair as they carol at their Christmas fiesta.

Several different levels of study were offered by the Spanish Department. Under the direction of Mrs. Torres-Trueba and Mrs. Houston, students studied literature and grammar in an effort to increase their knowledge of the Spanish language.

In the past, the Spanish Club at Western has not been very active, but under the new leadership of Mrs. Torres-Trueba and Mrs. Houston, the Spanish Club has learned new dances, songs and customs of the Spanish-speaking nations.

Before planning the Christmas fiesta, it was necessary to elect officers. Tom Mummert was elected president, Curt Veach, vice-president, and Cathy Davern, secretary - treasurer. The Spanish Club presented its Christmas program in the Large Group Room in front of a full audience.

In April, a Pan American banquet was planned, celebrated by dancing and singing. Members of the Spanish Club are Holli Crane, Joy Johnson, Patti Joyce, Scott Loomer, Richard Hardin, Lisa Morrow, Karen Nielsen, Kay Severinsen, Lisa Crosssett, Janet Gabler, Karen Martin, Janet Morgan, Tom Mummert, Signe Sather, Marilyn Simpson, Judie Walton, Nancy Shanks, Christie Chatterton, Jolyn Barsi, Judy Sargent, Kim Horton, Judy Zimmerman, Shelley Crawford, Mary Sawyer, Janet Wanninger, Beth Rush, Susan Pollard, Anita Larson, Carolyn Johnson, Holly Head, Mary Hageman, Dorlene Archbold, Lynn Allen, Cathy Davern and Curt Veach.

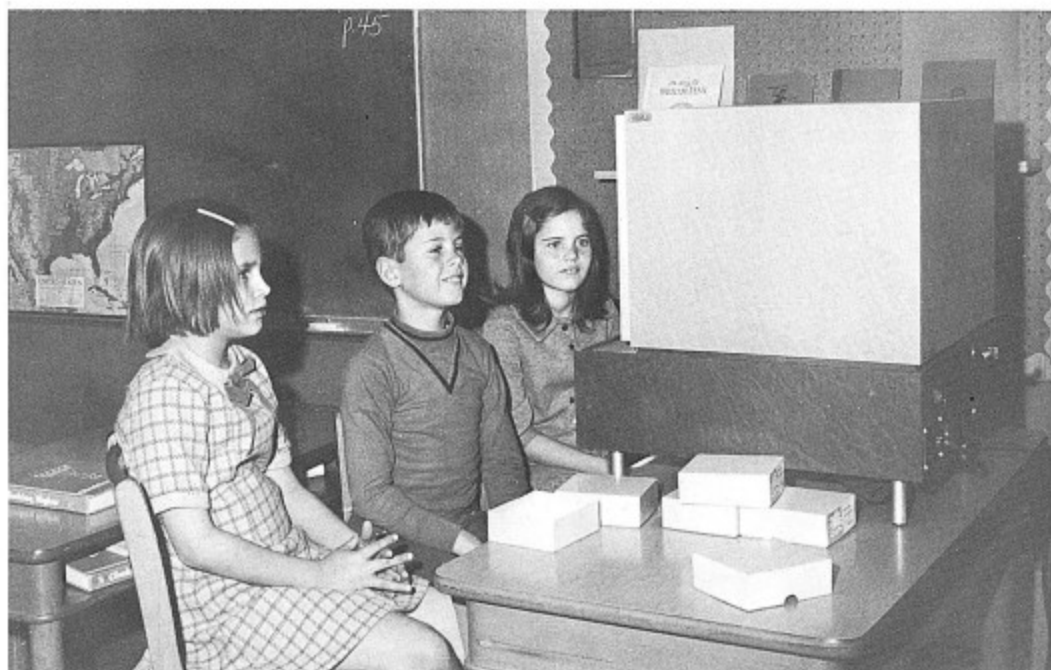

Rick Perry puts his fingers to use as he cuts slides in the Audio-Visual Center.

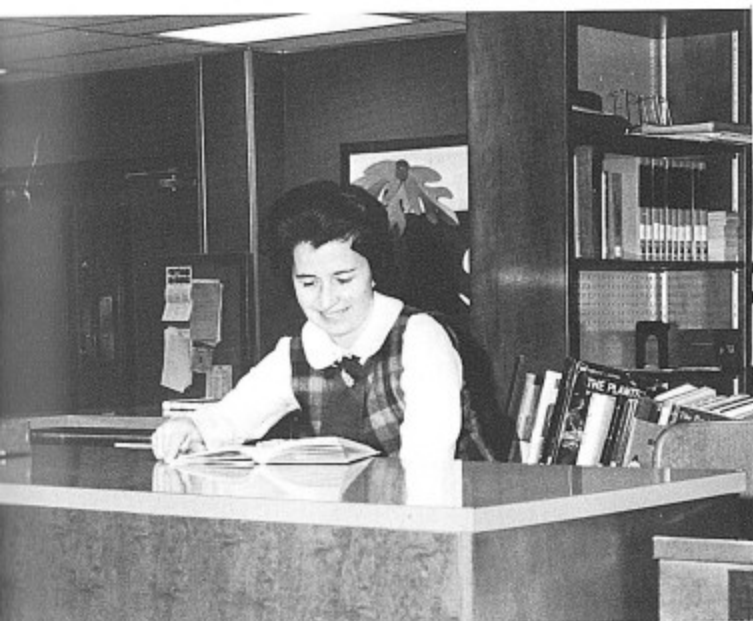

Senior Randy Bernhard decides to try his luck at the Dial Access System --- just to prove that anyone can use it!

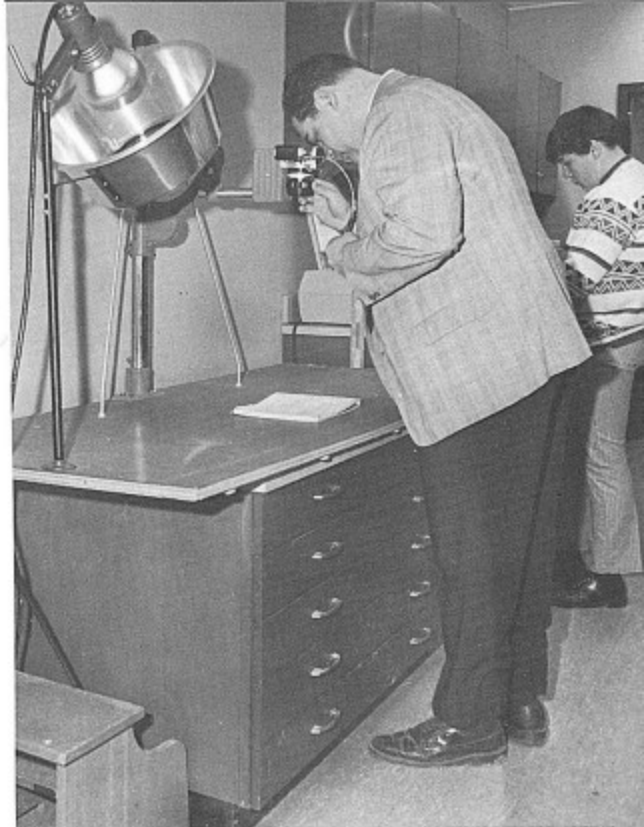

LRC Does Not Mean Library Only

Third graders Sarah Ward, Doug Miller and Margaret Dexter discover a new piece of educational equipment from the Audio-Visual Center which seems to keep their rapt attention.

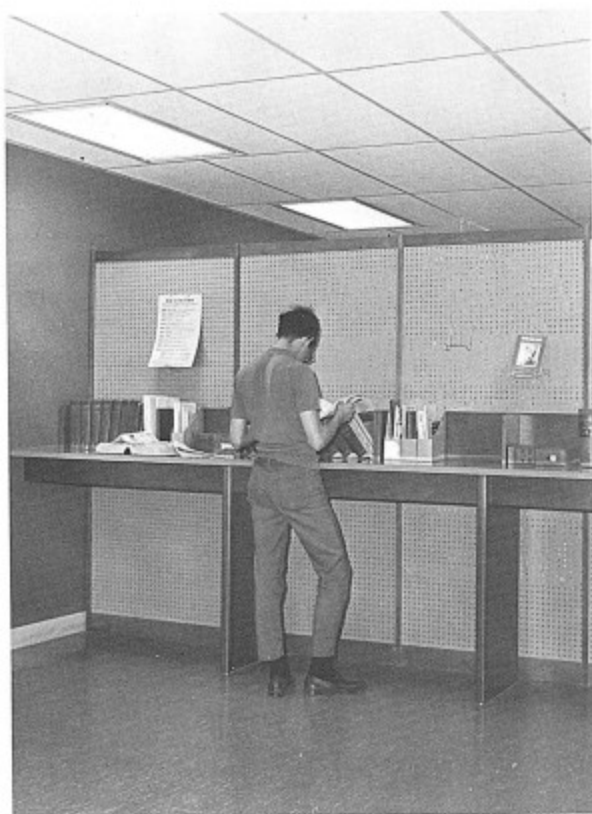

Mrs. Little grinned and bore it as LRC supervisor this year.

Mr. Bormet, assisted by Brad Johnson, works hard in the modern, Audio-Visual Center.

The Audio-Visual Department and the vast reading and learning area combine to create an atmosphere of education for the students of Western. The 10,000 volumes available in the Learning Resources Center for use in Grades K-12 are a wonderful opportunity to broaden one's knowledge of our world. The library section, under the supervision of Mrs. Haines and Mrs. Graff, and the Audio-Visual Department under Mr. Bormet have provided many a person a quiet place to study or a good place to prepare an extensive report complete with slides, films or sound. With the cooperation of student librarians, library practicum students and interested students, the Learning Resources Center continues to provide all with an opportunity to expand their present knowledge.

Joe Hull reaps the reward of an excellent Learning Resources Center as he researches in the high school library.

The Explorer Scouts, presided over by Brian Abel, spent time engaging in the time-honored practice of deliberating.

Special Services, Groups Active

Members of Candy Strippers are Chris Johnson, Debbie Findley, Mary Hageman, Cathy Davern, Karen Nielsen, Lisa Morrow, Adviser Mrs. Haines, Carolyn Johnson, Joy Johnson, Kay Severinsen, Sandi Kimler, Pat Kelly and Janet Roberts.

Cindy Loring, secretary to the Laboratory School, often spends hours on the telephone on various and sundry missions for both the director and the principal.

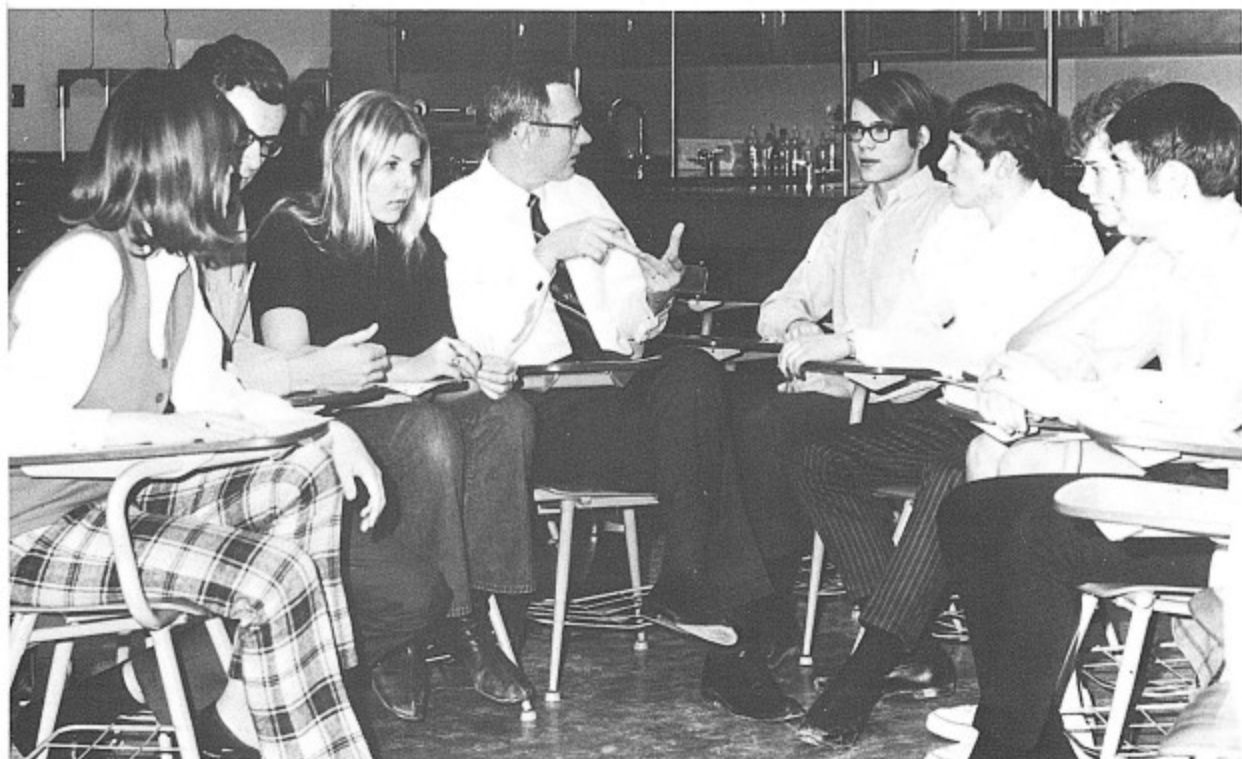

Mrs. Barbara Mason is one of Western's principal paper-pushers.

Mr. Flickinger provides expert guidance to juniors and seniors in search of colleges to attend.

The medical fate of Western rests in Mrs. Kathryn Dakin's hands.

Mr. Shaver, sponsor of Western's National Honor Society, suggests procedure to be followed in the amending of the Society constitution.

Membership in the National Honor Society is based on scholastic ability, character, leadership and service. This year's members wanted to lower the grade point requirement in order to base nomination more on character, leadership and service and less on scholarship.

Honors Are Numerous at Western

Many honors, academic, social and service, were received by Western students during the past year. These honors are top-heavy with seniors since many local, state and national awards are available to them; however, awards and honors were received by students in all classes. Not all honors could be mentioned because of the early Epilogue deadline.

Joan Galloway and Bob Adams received the DAR and SAR Citizenship Awards.

National Merit Scholarship finalists were Steve Julstrom and Tom Stipanowich. Letters of Commendation were received by Brian Abel, Bob Adams and Tim Davern.

Tom Foster, Phil Davenport, Jack Frost, Brian Abel and Keith Chapman attended the American Legion Boy's State in Springfield. Mary Hull attended Girl's State in the summer.

Tom Stipanowich was second place winner in the high school division for Illinois in the Savings and Loan Association Poster Contest.

Tim Davern was one of the 10 state finalists in the William Randolph Hearst Foundation Senate Youth Scholarship program.

Bob Adams won second place in the district contest of the VFW's Voice of Democracy program.

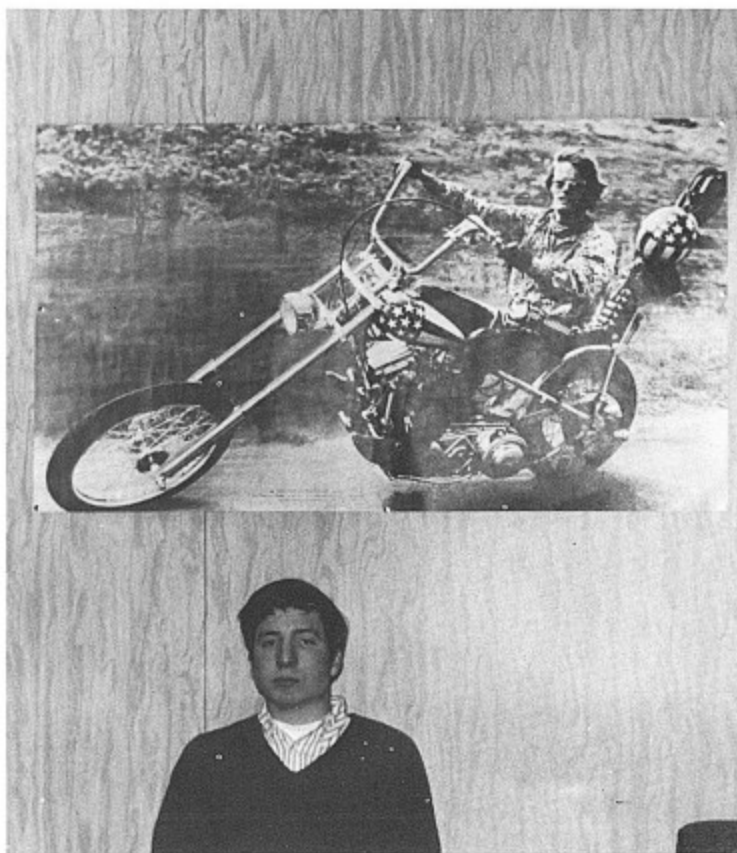

The Betty Crocker Teenage Homemaker award was given to Natalie Powell.

Kathy Nicholson, Marilyn Simpson and Tom Stipanowich attended the All-State chorus in Peoria and Chicago. Holly Stein and Steve Julstrom were in the orchestra division.

The Prom king and queen for 1970 were Tom Stipanowich and Mary Hull. Attendants were Randy Bernhard, Phil Davenport, Brian Abel, Kathy Nicholson, Kris Shanks and Becky Brown.

"A Time to Love, and a Time to Hate"

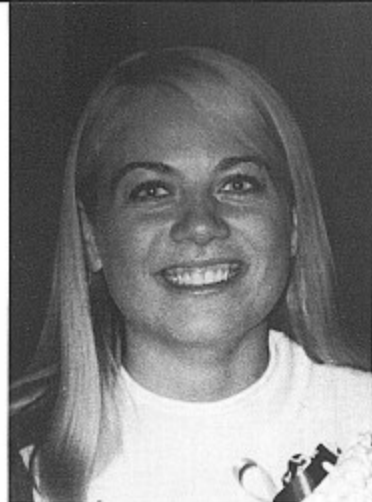

The past year was a year of progress and a year of regression; a year of hate and a year of love; a year of war and a year of peace; in short, it was a year like others in the world we live in. Men walked on the moon while "terra firma" engaged in its usual round of wars. Feminine styles went from the mini to the maxi to the midi to the mini or something like that. "Effete corps of impudent snobs" challenged a President and ran head-on into the Vice-President. The Prince of Wales was invested at Caernarvon Castle while his mother lost another throne. (Her Majesty was reportedly not amused.) Political careers were killed and were born. A nation and a world seemed confused and distressed.

- JUNE: Burger confirmed as Chief-Justice. Judy Garland dies.
- JULY: Prince Charles invested as Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester. Men landed on the moon.
- AUGUST: Riots broke out in British-occupied Ireland.
- SEPTEMBER: Ho Chi Minh died. Green Berets acquitted.
- OCTOBER: Vietnam moratorium. Lewis B. Hershey relieved of his duties.
- NOVEMBER: Second moratorium. Haynesworth rejected by Senate.
- DECEMBER: Draft lottery held. Great Britain abolished capital punishment.
- JANUARY: Biafra surrendered. Prime Minister Wilson visited U. S.
- FEBRUARY: Guyana became a Republic. (God save the queen!) Southern schools desegregated.
- MARCH: Five of the Chicago 7 convicted. Bank of America burned in Berkeley riots.

The past year was a year in which mankind stretched his mind in some areas and shrank it in others. Men reached for the stars and sank into the mud of humanity. Only the future will tell what final choice will make.

The passing of a second year in a new building and the entrance into the seventies saw a renewed effort on the part of students and faculty at Western to work together. An effective student council encouraged student participation in administrative decision-making. Newly-initiated independent study programs gave students an opportunity to do research under faculty supervision outside the classroom. The current economic crisis and the possibility of an empty treasury prompted many school organizations to set up busier schedules for fund-raising projects.

Attempting to reflect this new sense of participation (and to save a little money), Epilogue 70 has avoided the staid group pictures of school organizations and replaced them with shots of students in action.

Epilogue 70 is the result of the efforts of many diverse talents, all essential to the production of the book.

The Epilogue staff would like to thank the University Press and Photography Laboratory and the American Yearbook Company for their assistance.

Epilogue 70 is the last Western yearbook to benefit from the photographic work of Mr. Claude Tarleton. Mr. Tarleton's superior portraits have always been one of the best things about Epilogue, and the staff appreciates the continuance of his work by Mrs. Tarleton and Mrs. Chenoweth.
