

Preschool News

WIU Infant and Preschool Center
November 18th, 2022

Let it Snow!

We were so excited to see the first snowfall of the season this week! A big thank you goes out to everyone for sending the winter gear, so we could all get out and experience the snow! We got some great opportunities to practice putting on our snow pants, boots, coats, hats, and gloves. The bundling up process can be quite a production! Once we got outside, we were able to make our own choices about where we wanted to play. Some of us tried to make snowballs, while others examined the footprints made by different boots. We even got to see some animal tracks in the snow! We guessed they were made by either a rabbit or a squirrel. There wasn't quite enough snow to build a snowman this time.

Ms. Kelly, Ms. Shirley, & Ms. Sherri

Shoveling snow.

Laying in the snow.

Illinois Early Learning & Development Standards

Making Snow Angels.

Physical Development and Health:

Engage in active play using gross- and fine-motor skills.

Cleaning snow off the tables.

Social/Emotional Development:

Demonstrate persistence and creativity in seeking solutions to problems.

Trying out the snowy drums.

The Arts: Begin to appreciate and participate in music activities.

Experiencing the cool refreshing breeze.

Science: Observe and discuss changes in weather and seasons using common vocabulary.

